May operate fewer schools

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

"Are we here to provide educational programs or buildings? Should we have one or two high schools? One or three junior high schools? Ten or 13 grade schools?"

These were among the questions voiced by Granite City School Board members Tuesday night as they spent more than two hours discussing ways to end an imbalance that may cause borrowing this year to total $7,700,000, including $1,700,000 in second-year tax anticipation warrants.

Temper frayed occasionally in the tension-filled special meeting as the board concluded that not a penny could be cut at this time from the $29,924,019 tentative 1982-83 budget approved Aug. 24; final budget action will take place Sept. 28.

Severe purchasing limits are planned immediately, and it was decided to try to take steps by early December to eliminate any need for second-year warrants in 1983-84.

Ways to end second-year borrowing will be explored by the board and Sept. B. J. Davis during meetings this autumn. Davis said he will propose cost reductions and also methods to increase revenue.

Questioning of Finance Director Norman S. Owca by Secretary Robert Maxwell and Treasurer Dewey Melton established that 1982-83 obligations total $33,737,019 (including $3,813,000 to retire 1981-82 warrants) and that maximum income is expected to be $23,991,907, a difference of nearly $10 million "to get fully out of debt."

Board members speculated that the state would be likely to intervene if operating debt ever exceeds what both first- and second-year warrants would yield. To "keep control of the district," they said, "radical" action must be taken.

President George Moore called on the administrative staff to outline a range of potential spending cuts and their impact, enabling the board to decide whether to "accept the impact or lower our sights" regarding the speed at which costs are to be trimmed.

Ask Congress to help steel towns

Citing local plant closings, unemployment and layoffs, State Representatives Sam Wolf and Monroe Flynn appealed in Washington today for federal action.

Awarding of governmental contracts to local companies was proposed along with enforcement of laws against illegal dumping of subsidized steel by foreign nations.

Others set to appear before the executive committee of the Congressional steel caucus were Earl Laxson, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, State Senator Richard Newhouse of Chicago and State Representatives Harry Leinenweber of Joliet and Ted Meyer of Chicago. A statement was submitted by State Sen. Sam Vadalabene of this district.

Aiding in arranging the session were

U.S. Senator Alan Dixon of Illinois and Congressman Melvin Price and George O'Brien.

Cong. Joseph Gaydos is chairman of the Congressional steel caucus, and its staff director is Philip M. Oia.

The Illinois legislative delegation plans to cite severe economic conditions in communities where steel is produced.

Those testifying are calling for revival of a tripartite committee composed of steelworkers, steelmakers and government officials.

The committee would monitor federal actions that affect steel towns, including tax laws and directives. It also would seek to target economically depressed communities for a variety of federally-related production contracts.

Rep. Wolf, Granite City Democrat, is citing unemployment of 20.8 percent in Granite City, 24.9 percent in Rockford and 25.3 percent in Joliet.

Optimism that a realistic goal can be achieved this year was expressed by United Way campaign leaders during the largest kickoff ever conducted by the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

A total of 287 persons filled the Granite City Township Hall and heard a campaign goal of $625,000 announced by Roger A. Higgins, general campaign chairman, who challenged the campaign volunteers "to excel, achieve and meet and exceed" the goal.

Larry Miller, executive director of the United Way, noted that the 1982 goal is 10 percent below last year's goal, as the result of the closing of the A. O. Smith automotive frame plant here and, projected reductions in payroll deductions from American Steel, Granite City Steel and other industries which have reduced manpower under recessionary pressures.

Last year's goal of $695,000 was exceeded and the final total collected was more than $701,000, Miller said.

Economy forces lower UW goal

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Editor

However, unemployment in the area and the sluggish business climate dictated a lower goal this year, he said.

Higgins predicted victory this year and said he designed this year's campaign around a soccer theme, since soccer here is associated with success and achieving the "goal" has made local soccer teams the powerhouses of the state.

Higgins called all of the campaign division chairmen before the speaker's platform and threw soccer balls to them as he announced each division's goal.

Shirley Adams, vice chairman of the private donors division, received a goal of $9,600; Paul E. Raczewicz, vice chairman of professional donations, received a goal of $52,000 with his ball; Art Menendez, vice chairman of government donations, was given a goal of $36,300; Bob Glik, vice chairman for business and retail accounts, accepted his goal of $67,800 and Darryl W. Slater, vice chairman for industrial donations, caught his ball and his goal for $459,300.

Not included in the goal total are separate goals for the new "blitz" committee of $6,500 and labor participation committee of $2,500. Sharon Rogers, financial secretary of United Steelworkers of America Local 1063 heads the labor participation committee and Linda Schermer is chairman of the 1982 Blitz, which is to take place Sept. 23 when volunteers go from business to business in the Quad-Cities.

The crowd was entertained by the Southern Express Swing Chior of Granite City High School South, under the direction of Mary Ann Bright, vocal music teacher. The 25 members of the swing chior were warmly received and drew loud applause after a 25-minute performance of song and dance. Ginny Tuengen, director of public relations for St. Elizabeth Medical Center, guest speaker for the kickoff breakfast, gave a talk based on the theme, "These are the best of times and these are the worst of times." For the employed with adequate incomes, these are the best of times. For the unemployed who do not know where they will get their next meal, these are the worst of times, she noted.

It is an obligation to those who having the best of times to share with those who are not. "What greater resource is there to cherish than the human resource?" she asked.

"We can't start the day out with a defeated attitude. If we believe, we can win," she stated.

Bill H. Terrell, president of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, thanked those who attended and noted, "This is probably the largest attended kickoff breakfast we've had."

The Rev. Don Pierson of Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, offered the invocation and benediction. Bruce Holt of the swing chior sang the National Anthem as Andy Smith and Stephen Lane of Boy Scout Troop 45 and Steve Smith of Cub Scout Pack 46 presented the colors.

Spreads the news—secretly

By NANCY WEIL

of the Press-Record

Catherine Lvoff has been to Russia, her homeland, only three times and, although the 65-year-old did not see the country from the time she was an infant until 1977, she intrinsically felt at home there.

Despite Mrs. Lvoff's intense feelings about Russia, she will never again enter the country because she lives in self-imposed exile.

The exile is a matter of necessity, for if she entered the country, she would be taken into custody by Soviet authorities.

As founder of Religious Books for Russia, Inc., which was started after her last visit to the Soviet Union in 1979, Mrs. Lvoff has been in charge of organizing, printing and then distributing thousands of religious books to her homeland, where such literature is banned.

Based in New York City, RBR employees translate American books into Russian to be taken there and distributed through an underground network.

A good amount of Mrs. Lvoff's time is spent traveling and lecturing to spread the word about religious suppression and the work of RBR. Sunday she spoke at The Nativity of the Virgin Mary Orthodox Church in Madison during a coffee and fellowship hour.

That evening, Mrs. Lvoff relaxed at the rectory with The Rev. Thomas Succarotte and talked about her desire to provide Russian Christians religious literature to dispel their intense "spiritual hunger."

"It is not a colorful explanation. People are living in misery. They lack

Smuggles Bibles into Russia

The cause might be noble, but the bills sent to Religious Books for Russia, Inc., in New York City, are no less impending than those charged to profitable organizations.

Catherine Lvoff, founder and executive secretary of RBR, does not allow herself to become discouraged by the costs of the corporation. The company's purpose is to translate religious books into Russian. The literature is then distributed through an underground network in Russia with the hope of reaching some of the 50 million Christians estimated by Mrs.

Lvoff to practice the Orthodox faith there.

Mrs. Lvoff has three women working with her at the New York office to translate the works. A Los Angeles branch opened a year ago.

Even with increased personnel, RBR's work load is tremendous. The printing and publishing costs alone seem astronomical. For this reason, only paperback editions are printed for distribution. It costs $8,000 to print 1,000 books, Mrs. Lvoff said. If 2,000 books are printed,

Statewide showcase for Linkage project

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

The 1982 Education-CETA Linkage Showcase II starts today at the Holiday Inn East Springfield, Ill., with members of the business community joining educators and union leaders for the two-day series of conferences, workshops and general sessions.

Addressing the conferees from Granite City will be Shirley Blasingame, director of Coordinated Youth Services' Linkage Project, a local pilot program which has earned critical acclaim at both the national and statewide level.

Her talk, based on the topic, "96 Private Sector Linkages," related to the 96 area business firms involved in the project here.

Other speakers from the local community are scheduled to discuss the Linkages program and explain how the goals are being met through coordination of human and financial resources.

They are Jim Himmelright, department manager of manufacturing for The Nestle Company plant in Granite City, representing Linkages' private sector, and Granite City Postmaster Jack Wilkins, who will speak on behalf of the program's public sector participants.

The statewide conference is designed to virtually "parade" the products and ideas developed through local Education-CETA Linkage projects.

Principal speakers are Paul E. Sultan, Ph.D., professor of economics and management at Southern Illinois

Officers on patrol Monday discovered a plate glass window had been broken with a bottle to enter Bob's Shell Station, 2701 Pontoon Road. The intruder had pried open a cash drawer at the front counter and the drawer, containing between $15 and $20 in change, was missing.

Use of Hawaiian condominium is among Camelot Auction offerings

Ten years ago, when the first joint Camelot Auction was held by the Granite City Optimist and Rotary Clubs, organizers were surprised at how well the event was received.

Since that, the Camelot Auction has grown and flourished as the items to be auctioned continue to get better and better.

Bidders at this year's auction Oct. 9 at the Sunset Hills Country Club will have a wide variety of items from which to choose — from a wicker goose to a week in a penthouse studio condominium on Kaaanapali Beach in Maui, Hawaii.

If Hawaii is a bit far, auction attendees may bid on one of several vacation weekends on the Lake of the Ozarks, including lake cruises.

Merchants and residents are donating a variety of items, commercial as well as hand crafted. It is hoped the final list of items to be auctioned will include oil paintings, crystal, home computers, pewter and brass items, antiques, mini-bikes, jewelry, hand-made quilts and unusual items are being sought and many have been obtained by the club members.

Last year, approximately $10,000 was raised to benefit the youth of the area. The Optimist Club, in keeping with its creed, "a friend of youth," distributes its share to the Granite City Scholarship Foundation, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the YMCA and other youth groups and activities.

The Rotary Club uses its share to sponsor an International Youth Exchange, Boy Scouts, the United Way, the Scholarship Foundation, the YMCA and other youth activities.

Tickets are selling rapidly, according to Dick Bueger, the Optimist Club's co-chairman of the event. Persons wishing tickets to the auction, which sells out each year, should obtain their tickets as soon as possible from any Granite City Rotary or Optimist Club member.

South cheerleaders earn 'Spirit Stick'

Eight members of the varsity and junior-varsity soccer cheerleading squads at Granite City High School South attended a week long clinic at Rolla, Mo., in August.

The girls were evaluated on their cheerleading technique and gymnastic ability, as well as their pep and enthusiasm. Each day, the members learned new stunts and pyramids to be incorporated in this season's cheers.

One of the highest awards received by the squad from the Universal Cheerleading Association was the "Spirit Stick." This was awarded to a South's squad because they demonstrated the most pep and enthusiasm, as well as cooperation throughout the week.

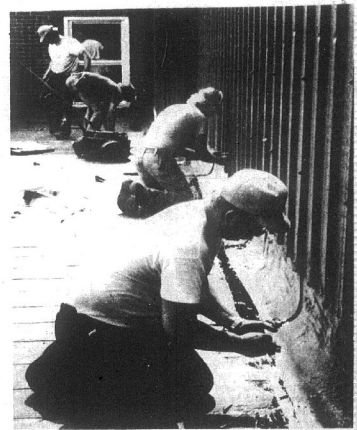

Cheerleaders who attended the clinic were Sharon Blankenship, Beth Bodnam, Kim Dickey, Pam Dubnick, Tina Kaemph, Chris Kessler, Jackie Linhart and Debby Miller. The girls earned money to pay their way to the camp.

"The camp was great. We all worked so hard, but it definitely paid off. I was so excited when we won the spirit stick," said soccer cheerleader Miss Dubnick. Bev Frazier is the cheerleading sponsor at South.

TRAILER TAKEN

A small utility trailer belonging to William Shell of Alton Avenue in Madison, was stolen from a lot between Sept. 10 and Sept. 13. The bright orange trailer has damage on the right rear, no bumper or license plates and was made from the bed of a Ford pickup truck. Bolt cutters were used to cut the chain tow on the trailer, which is valued at $200.

NEW YMCA ROOF. Lakeside Roofing employees finish the new YMCA roof last week.

The roof was funded through a donation from the McDonnell-Douglas Personnel Charity Plan. "It's a rare instance to get money from the other side of the river," said David Fennite, YMCA executive director. The Missouri company donated $9,000 to the YMCA which covered roofing costs and related expenses. The roofing is part of a summer-long "spilling up" process at the YMCA. Pictured, from the foreground back, are Larry Lanborn, Jerome Wilken, Bruce Kehrer, and Roger Stewart. It took the men about a week to roof the building and they finished last week.

Ground to be broken for Hilton Hotel at 70-157

By JUDY TAPLIN

The first ground moving for construction of a Hilton Hotel could begin this week and, at the latest, the middle of next week, developer Gary Fears says.

The initial work of dirt moving and foundations will employ about 30 to 40 persons and will take approximately six weeks, he said.

A groundbreaking ceremony is planned, but no date has been set.

The Hilton, to be built in Eastport Plaza at the junction of Interstate 55-70 and Illinois 157, became a viable project last month when its developers learned they would receive $13.4 million from a new state of Illinois loan program.

Fears said he has been occupied during the past few weeks with extensive paperwork the loan program involves. "I had no idea there were so many documents," he said.

Fears is waiting for final approval of the project, a technical aspect at this point but required before actual dirt moving can begin.

He said he has reason to believe the approval could come this week.

He said his company, Cornville Hotel Partners, is prepared to break ground the same day the approval is received. S. M. Wilson, of Granite City, is general contractor for the project.

The new state loan program involves $100 million for 27 projects throughout Illinois. Fears says the Hilton is the second project from the top of the list.

The Hilton will have 238 rooms, a restaurant and 8,000 square feet of banquet facilities.

Construction is expected to take 14 months and create 175 new jobs.

Fears said steel erection and exterior masonry should be completed on at least the restaurant section before cold weather so that interior work can continue throughout the winter.

Olympia Hotels Corporation of Houston, Texas, will be operating partner with Collinsville Hotel Partners in the hotel venture.

Fears said the Texas firm will not become actively involved until the hotel is ready for fixtures and furnishings.

Olympia Hotels currently owns or operates Hilton Hotels in Houston, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Minneapolis, Minn.; and Milwaukee, Wis.

Fears and B. C. Gitcho are the principals in Collinsville Hotel Partners.

Man charged with assault

Following a series of disturbance calls to addresses in the 2000 blocks of State Street and Grand Avenue, starting at 12:07 a.m. today, police said a fight erupted outside 2018 Grand Ave., and a man who allegedly had a shotgun was arrested.

Officers went to 2218 Grand Ave., at 1:45 a.m. today and alleged two men were on the ground fighting and a woman was standing nearby holding a shotgun.

After separating the combatants, officers arrested Donald J. Marquis, 35, 2242 State St., charging him with aggravated assault and with not having a Firearm Owner's Identification card.

Officers were told by Phyllis Cagle, 2218 Grand Ave., that Marquis came to her apartment seeking a loan, her brother, Billy J. Cagle, 2121 Ohio Ave., and after the two went outside, Marquis allegedly pointed a 12-gauge shotgun at Cagle, who grabbed the weapon, wrestling the gun away from him.

A neighbor came to assist Cagle, but the fight continued until police arrived, the Cagles stated. A reason for the argument was not stated.

POWER OUTAGES

TODAY EFFECT 500

A 45-minute interruption in electrical service for about 500 customers of Illinois Power occurred early today when two insulators malfunctioned on the 34,000 volt transmission lines, located near the Granite City Steel's Blast Furnace Division on Edwardsville Road.

One substation was out of service for roughly 45 minutes, cutting off power to 500 customers, according to Carl Mathias, Illinois Power service area manager, who said tripping of the circuits caused momentary outages in a wider area.

Numerous alarm systems, disrupted by the outage, were checked by officers and the buildings were found to be secure.

Arrests in shooting incident

Madison Police last night arrested Oscar Windel, 45, 1834 Sixth St., after he falsely reported a shooting incident to police. Windel also was charged with reckless conduct, which is a state charge, discharging a firearm in the city and interfering with police.

At 6 p.m. yesterday, police were dispatched to Windel's home after receiving a report that shots were fired and someone was shot.

Windel and Michael T. Orlovski, 27, of 2410 W. 20th St., told police that they had observed a white male at tempt to gain entry into the van of Anthony DiVietro, 2804 Dale Ave., parked near Windel's home.

Windel told police that DiVietro had said anybody seen trying to break into the van should be shot by Windel. Upon seeing the subject, Windel paid he grabbed a shotgun and fired one round through the screen door of his home into the left rear side of the van.

According to Windel, he shot the subject once in the lower section of his body, but the man limped away, got into a yellow vehicle and fled.

Police observed a hole in the screen and in the van. They also noted a small caliber hole next to the shotgun pattern in the van and two similar holes in a metal trash container next to the van. A shotgun, loaded with two live rounds, and a 22-caliber rifle with 12 live rounds were found leaning next to the door frame of the residence and police took both as evidence.

Neighbors were questioned and told police they had not observed a yellow vehicle nor had they seen anyone flee. Police were told that Windel and Orlovski had been observed drinking beer during the day and most of the week. It was noted that the two men appeared to be intoxicated.

Police then returned to Windel's home and placed him under arrest. The Granite City Police Department was checked and it was found that a warrant for disorderly conduct was outstanding for Orlovski. He also was arrested and transferred to Granite City.

A senseless rule bites the dust

A small step for man, a giant leap for pump-your-own gasoline customers.

The federal government is releasing its stranglehold on users of self-service gasoline pumps. OSHA (the Occupational Safety and Health Administration) has revoked its standard prohibiting the use of those little funny-looking latches which will allow motorists to let loose of the gasoline nozzles while gasoline flows into their cars.

When self-service stations first appeared, many of us tried to save a few pennies by pumping our own, but discovered, to our dismay, that the latches which keep the gasoline flowing had been removed from the pump nozzles.

That made the whole thing uncomfortable. First, you have to lean over at an uncomfortable angle to keep the nozzle handle up. Second, some of the handles seemed to be built with springs designed to give a smooth ride to Mac trucks, which left the pump-your-own motorists with tired, if not oddly-curved hands.

Last, but not least, the gasoline coming through the metal nozzles from deep in the ground is COLD. The nozzles get cold. Hands holding the nozzle's open get cold. In winter, those without gloves could get frost-bitten.

However, OSHA felt the risk of a spill from nozzles latched open offset the discomfort to the motorists. Some motorists discovered ways to hold the nozzle handles open with gasoline caps or screwdrivers wedged into them.

Now, at last, as part of President Reagan's regulatory reform effort, OSHA decided to reverse its ban of the latches.

Oh, how great it will be this winter to get out of a nice, warm, car, turn on the gasoline pump, set the latch and get back into the car while the gasoline flows in to the tank. It's almost like full service at self-service prices.

A great way to spend a day

Quad-Cityans frequently accuse Missourians of believing that the Mississippi River is 100 miles wide and ignoring the many advantages and activities of this area. Sometimes, just the opposite is true.

A graceful, relaxing, eye-pleasing family activity occurs each year within 15 or 20 minutes of Granite City which few Quad-Cityans enjoy, we believe because it is across the river. That's a mistake.

The event is the Great Forest Park Balloon Race in Forest Park, St. Louis. This year's hot-air balloon race, the 10th annual Hare and Hounds race, will be Saturday with liftoff at 4:45 p.m. Preliminary events include a photo contest at 2:30 p.m. and a skydiving exhibition at 4 p.m.

Even the beginning photographer with the least expensive camera can get exciting, colorful shots during the photo contest. Photographers of all ages are allowed onto the field where balloon crews inflate several balloons, providing close-up action shots.

Then at liftoff, the sky fills with brightly-colored hot air balloons, forming a picture which just has to be photographed. Few will be disappointed. For those with a portable radio, we suggest taking it. KMOX Radio provides live coverage, including reports from a broadcaster in the new KMOX Radio balloon.

Our suggestion — fry up some chicken, make some potato salad, grab the chips, lawn chairs, blankets and radio and head for Forest Park Saturday. It's likely to become an annual family event.

Keep public meetings public

(From the Collinsville Herald)

We will take Madison County's word that somebody goofed when a closed session of the finance committee was held recently without public notice and, apparently, without a vote of the committee to hold a closed session.

But we view this as a good time for a refresher course on the Illinois Open Meetings Act, especially in light of the fact that three members of the Wood River town board were indicted last week by a Madison County grand jury for allegedly violating the Act.

The indictment is a reminder that there can be criminal penalties as well as civil ones for ignoring the Open Meetings Act.

Violation of the act is a Class C misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of up to $500 and imprisonment for up to 30 days.

We would advise all members of all public bodies to read the Open Meetings Act. Even officials who believe they know the law may not be aware of several amendments made in 1981.

The information below concerns only closed meetings; the act in its entirety addresses much more, including the need to give public notice and to take minutes.

A public body may vote to close a meeting or to hold a closed meeting at a specified future date, but this vote must be taken at an open meeting.

By such a vote in open session, the public is made aware that there will be a meeting in which the taxpayers will not be present.

Only the subject for which a closed session is called can be discussed during this meeting, and no final action can be taken.

And the act, as amended, requires minutes to be taken of all closed sessions.

Closed sessions are allowed:

—For collective negotiating matter between public employers and their employees or representatives; —To consider information regarding appointment, employment or dismissal of an employee or officer, or to hear a complaint against either;

—To consider the appointment of a member to fill a vacancy;

—For meetings on acquisition of real property;

—For meeting of a school board or board committee hearing student disciplinary cases or matters relating to individual students in special education programs;

—For meetings to discuss litigation, but only when that litigation has been filed or when action is probable or imminent;

—To settle or establish a reserve for a personal injury claim against the public body;

—For mayors and commissioners to discuss matters which relate solely to the exercise of their executive or administrative responsibilities.

We would like to remind all governmental bodies that they are never required to deliberate in closed session. However, it is a rare governmental unit that holds to the philosophy that it just might be best to keep everything in the open.

Members of the Press-Record editorial staff surveyed persons in the Metro-East area asking them if they thought students should have to say prayers in public schools. Their reactions follow.

Mary Frances, Granite City

"It sure wouldn't hurt, it might help the moral. When I grew up, I didn't know any other way, we always said prayers, sometimes silent prayers. It sure wouldn't hurt anything."

Jeanne Trimmer, Granite City

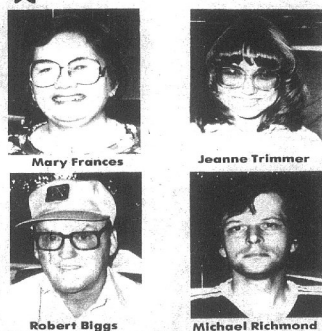

"No, I don't think students should have to say prayers. I think religion should be kept in church and in one's heart."

Robert Biggs, Granite City

"It should be left up to the individual and their family because there are so many different types of religions. Many wouldn't participate if they did have prayers in school. Nobody should be forced to say prayers of any kind while in school."

Michael Richmond, Granite City

"No, I think students should be given a choice. Time should be set aside if someone wants to pray."

Feel Mayor Sasyk should answer questions

To the Editor:

We read the "questions Madison's investment in cable TV" article in the Forum that was signed, "Lifelong Madison Resident." At the end of the article was an editor's note stating that Mayor Mike Sasyk refused to answer the questions because the person writing the article requested that his or her name not be revealed.

We, as taxpayers in the city of Madison, respect the lifelong resident's anonymity because of the harassment received when someone expressed his opinion and it differs from that of Mayor Sasyk. If we, as taxpayers, respect this person's right to anonymity, then we feel that Mayor Sasyk should respect this person's right also.

Quit making excuses, Mayor Sasyk, and answer the questions. We, as taxpayers, have the right to know about the affairs going on in our city.

People should not have to live in daily fear

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in regards to the family in Pontoon Beach which is being harassed.

Just less than a year ago, I remember reading about another family in Pontoon, which was harassed, got no justice and their lives and home ended in a nightmare.

I think it's about time that all concerned citizens should start asking questions and I think we should get some answers.

No one should have to live like that. And who knows, the next family being harassed could be one of ours.

Constitution week a good time to reflect on our freedoms

To the Editor:

The week of Sept. 17 through 23 is designated as Constitution Week by proclamation of the President of the United States, in accordance with Public Law No. 915.

It commemorates the 150th anniversary of our Constitution, a document which has been declared by Justice Johnson of the United States Supreme Court in 1823, to be "The most wonderful instrument ever drawn by the hand of man." A document which established principles that have withstood the tests of conflict and time, and gave us the foundation for a free, prosperous and independent life for every citizen.

What is more important to every citizen of this Republic than to perpetuate the institutions which protect his life, his liberty and his property? What is of more priceless value than the national ideal and traditions which have given this nation its proud place in history?

It is human nature to take an inheritance for granted. If our Nation is to remain vital, it must maintain the spirit of liberty expressed in our Constitution. If we fail to guard that spirit, and become indifferent to the worth of our freedom, we will have lost the right to freedom.

The excellence of this document deserves our confidence and support and we urge all Americans to be worthy of its protection.

If boys with bicycles wish to have daily use of their own steeds, they will have to quit riding on sidewalks, according to Chief of Police Ross Johnson. Within the past week, bikes have been taken away from four youths caught riding on sidewalks. They were kept at the police station for several days then returned to their owners with a warning to stay off sidewalks. Recently a woman was struck and injured by a bicycle while she was walking on a sidewalk.

Prince Friedrich Wilhelm von Hohenzollern, grandson of the former German Kaiser, passed through this city Wednesday night with Clyde Richards, former Ford salesman in this city, on his way to St. Louis. They were driving through from Springfield, Ill., and stopped at the McGraw Motor Company to telephone officials in St. Louis that they would arrive shortly.

An old school bell that may be 100 years old has been given a place as a monument to early education in the city of Venice. The bell, which was used for years at the old Venice school, has been placed in front of the school and is housed in a special brick framework which has just been completed. It has already outlasted the old school building by 20 years, as the old building was torn down in 1937 to make room for the present structure. The bell was first placed into use when the old school was erected in 1838. The bell measures about 30 inches in diameter at the base. It contains no date or manufacturer's markings.

Steel caucus asked today to push for governmental contracts

Federal action to help hard-hit steel communities is needed urgently, local legislators testified in Washington, D.C., today.

Those conferring with the executive committee of the Congressional steel caucus included State Representative Sam W. Wolf of Granite City and State Rep. Monroe L. Flinn of Cahokia. Flinn is director of community affairs for the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation.

A statement of support was submitted to the group by State Senator Sam M. Vada of Edwardsville.

Those arranging to make the trip for a morning conference today included Earl Lazerson, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, who is the head of a new regional economic development group, and state legislators from Illinois steelmaking areas.

Rep. Wolf proposed that the Steel Tripartite Committee be restored and that it target cities like Granite City, Joliet, Rockford and Decatur for broader and increased participation by the steel industries in federal governmental contracts.

He urged that such a committee become involved in environmental, safety and health, foreign trade, capital spending, industrial modernization and labor matters affecting the steel industry.

Wolf said a coalition of state legislators is willing to work with steelmakers, steelworkers and the Congressional steel caucus toward solving some of the steel problems and alleviating the concerns of economically depressed steel towns.

Rep. Flinn said, "Steel companies are operating at the lowest capacity since 1932. Week after week, they are operating below 50 percent capacity operation although 80 percent is a break-even point."

"In Illinois, Wisconsin Steel has been shut down permanently. American Steel in Granite City is on an indefinite shutdown."

"Granite City Steel has over a thousand people in layoff status. Never before since the Great Depression has steel demand been so low."

"Oil country products, farm equipment, manufacturers and automotive companies are at their lowest operations in many, many years."

"It is my understanding that there are about 200,000 fewer jobs today in the steel industry than in 1965, and almost one-third of those remaining are either in layoff status or on a short work-week."

Flinn continued, "I am not asking you to solve the economic problems of the country here and now, but there are things that can be done to help the steel industry in the long run."

"Some of the things Congress should look into are:

- (1) "Tax laws which make capital recovery in this country non-competitive with other steelmaking countries."
- (2) "The federal government all the way back to President Eisenhower has been unwilling to enforce U.S. trade laws.

(3) "The steel industry has borne an unreasonable share of environmental protection costs which have been mandated by both the federal and state governments."

(4) "In addition, and for which I am sure you have no answer, excessive employment costs in the steel industry are higher than in any other unionized, major manufacturing company in our country or any major foreign competitor."

"This, of course, is a problem which must be worked out by the various steel companies and the Steelworkers union."

"These are some of the reasons there has been under-investment in advanced steel technology by most of the steel companies of the United States."

"I ask that each of you seek ways to change the tax laws in the future that are so difficult to address the capital recovery problem. There have been some changes recently, but they do not go far enough."

"Our government somehow needs to negotiate with foreign steel-making countries to set realistic quotas on the amount of steel shipped to this country."

"We likewise need to make sure in the future that any delaying action by the federal government, such as the effective date of the steel problems and labor matters affecting the steel industry."

Wolf said a coalition of state legislators is willing to work with steelmakers, steelworkers and the Congressional steel caucus toward solving some of the steel problems and alleviating the concerns of economically depressed steel towns.

Rep. Flinn said, "Steel companies are operating at the lowest capacity since 1932. Week after week, they are operating below 50 percent capacity operation although 80 percent is a break-even point."

"In Illinois, Wisconsin Steel has been shut down permanently. American Steel in Granite City is on an indefinite shutdown."

Flinn continued, "I am not asking you to solve the economic problems of the country here and now, but there are things that can be done to help the steel industry in the long run."

"Some of the things Congress should look into are:

- (1) "Tax laws which make capital recovery in this country non-competitive with other steelmaking countries."
- (2) "The federal government all the way back to President Eisenhower has been unwilling to enforce negative ripple in the entire economy when the steel industry is hurting."

"I again offer my direct assistance in support of all worthwhile efforts which will improve the economic future of the steel industry within Illinois."

"Although I could not be in attendance personally, I do offer to help. I ask that I be kept informed of any specific action or assistance that I might provide."

Rep. Wolf testified of "deep concern for the serious problems facing the steel industry."

"In the first half of 1982, eight of the largest steel companies in the country are reporting losses, with no improvement in sight for the balance of the year and into 1983."

"Other companies have closed their doors or have substantially reduced their operations."

"There are 200,000 fewer jobs in the steel industry today than in 1965. Of those remaining, over one-third are either laid off or on short hours."

"In Illinois, we are especially hard hit with an acknowledged unemployment rate of over 12 percent. It doesn't begin to include or recognize those who are no longer a part of the statistics, either because their benefits have expired or they have accepted part-time work."

"I could talk about Rockford, with an unemployment rate of 24.5 percent, or Decatur, with an unemployment rate of 18.2 percent, or Danville with 18.7 percent or Joliet with 25.3 percent."

"But I want to talk about my home town of Granite City."

"It is part of a Madison County community that we call the Tri-City area that has an unemployment rate of 21 percent."

"This is considerably higher unemployment than what some people associate with the Great Depression of the 1930s."

"The Tri-City area, with approximately 70,000 population, is basically an industrial community known throughout the Midwest for its steel mills and related industries."

"In the last two years, the economic stability of this area has been dealt one blow after another. For example: 1. 'A. O. Smith Corp. (auto frames) closed; 2,000 jobs lost."

2. "United Nesco Container Co. (metal drums) closed; 75 jobs lost."

3. "American Steel (castings) closed; 1,800 jobs lost."

4. "Piper Industries (fabricating steel) closed; 40 jobs lost."

5. "Conalco (aluminum) — 300 jobs lost."

6. "National Lead (lead products) closed; 200 jobs lost."

7. "Granite City Steel (steel products) layoffs — 2,800 jobs eliminated."

8. "More than 40 retail and small businesses have closed, including two large department stores. This trend will continue until the manufacturing base improves."

"Other sectors within the community have experienced similar layoffs. For example, the City of Granite City and the Granite City school district have laid off more than 200 professionals over the last two years."

"In this community of 70,000, we have experienced employment going from 12,900 in 1970 to an estimate of 9,800 in 1982, a reduction of 56 percent."

"The discomfort index is described as an unofficial but simple yardstick of how much Americans are suffering under prevailing economic conditions."

"It is the sum of the inflation rate plus the unemployment rate. Right now, the discomfort rate nationwide is 15.9 percent, an inflation rate of 6.1 percent plus an unemployment rate of 9.8 percent."

"An index rating of 6 percent is considered sublime; 10 percent is irritating; anything close to 15 percent is in a class with having a tooth pulled. And a discomfort index rating of anything over 20 percent is considered excruciating."

"I looked up the word 'excruciating' and Webster defines it as 'agonizing—to inflict severe pain—to torture.'"

"With that in mind, what words do you use to describe a discomfort index rate of almost 20 percent? That is what it is in my district and in a number of districts throughout Illinois."

"We don't pretend that ours is the only area to feel the effects of the recession. Communities all over the country are being hit hard by the economic stalemate. The only difference is we are getting the heck kicked out of us."

"Wolf asserted that 'There is no doubt in any of our minds that this committee and the caucus it represents are fully aware of problems that confront the steel industry, together with the economic factors that have contributed to the problem.'"

"We are not sure, however, that you are fully aware of the urgency that exists in many areas for solutions to these problems — and the need to alleviate the stress and concern of steelworkers and others all over the country who are losing their homes, are unable to provide sufficient food for their families, and are troubled by their inability to cope with ever-increasing utility costs."

"Assistance at the national level is needed to address many of these problems and we believe the key word is 'now.'"

"Stomachs can't wait until tomorrow for food."

"Utility companies won't wait until tomorrow for their money, and mortgage foreclosures and evictions are set in concrete by law."

"Action is needed now, not just for consideration but for decisions — in areas that have been debated for months. Some of these are:

1. "Immediate action on full enforcement of existing trade laws, not in 1983 or 1984, but 1982."

2. "Present cases in litigation involving dumping and subsidy of imported steel should be vigorously and promptly prosecuted."

3. "A continuing review of environmental regulations is needed, with the goal of eliminating those deemed not to be cost-effective and which go beyond necessary protection of public health and safety."

4. "Further revision of those tax laws which would expand the capital cost recovery and thereby encourage accelerated investment in new plants and equipment."

5. "Legislation and executive action to not only encourage but to require more extensive utilization of American steel in government contracts and the U.S. military."

6. "Reestablishment of the Steel Tripartite Committee composed of top government officials, top steel industry executives, and top steelworker officials, as it operated during the Carter administration."

4. "New legislation which would enhance the monitoring and control of foreign imports."

5. "Legislation and executive action to not only encourage but to require more extensive utilization of American steel in government contracts and the U.S. military."

6. "Reestablishment of the Steel Tripartite Committee composed of top government officials, top steel industry executives, and top steelworker officials, as it operated during the Carter administration."

Cutbacks in animal controls

By JIM SCHLUETER
Madison County's Animal Control Department will be the first to suffer the employee layoffs that many county officials have predicted as a result of budget problems.

With animal control coming up $5,000 short of meeting expenses for the last two months of 1982, one department employee will be laid off and another will be cut back to part-time status.

The decision was made in a closed meeting of the county's animal health committee and Dr. Carl Rogers, head of the animal control department.

These moves and a 20 percent pay cut for Dr. Rogers were made to reduce expenditures by the $5,000 needed to keep the department from overspending its $152,000 budget. Salaries make up 86 percent of the department's budget.

The personnel changes will take effect Sept. 27, when the county has four pay periods remaining, according to Jackie Kollman of animal control. Dr. Rogers resigned Monday as veterinarian and will not do such work as testing cattle.

He will continue as director of the animal control department. Animal control has seven employees, three office workers, three workers at the county dog pound and Dr. Rogers.

Committee Chairman Michael Semanisin met with the county's finance committee to ask for $5,000 to prevent any cutbacks.

But the finance committee decided not to subsidize animal control with money from the county's contingency fund.

Finance Chairman William Little, Alton, said the contingency fund was not established to bail out departments that overspend their budgets.

"I know we have to work together on the problems we have right now, but if we start something like this at this time of the year, you've really opened up a bag of worms," Little said.

Committee member Fred Dalton, Collinsville, said he would like to give the department the money, but he thought bigger emergencies may need help from the contingency fund, since the county faces a $2.2 million deficit in fiscal year 1983.

The other two members of the animal health committee present, Alan Dunstan, Troy, and Elmer Lubber, Highland, are also members of the animal health

BLACKS OUT, HITS PICKUP AND POLE

Dennis J. Yarbrough, 28, of 2818 Myrtle Ave., was injured and taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center this week, following an accident in the 3300 block of Nameoki Road.

Yarbrough, whose station wagon was headed north on Nameoki, told police that he blacked out while driving. His vehicle then jumped the median, striking a southbound pickup truck operated by Ronald Clavin, 651 Barkley St., Mitchell.

The accident continued on until hitting a utility pole.

Open bids to study staffing

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Bid proposals on a study intended to squelch conflicting reports on the number of employees appropriate for the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Plant have been opened.

The aldermanic treatment plant committee is expected to weed through the 10 submissions Monday afternoon.

The request for engineering survey proposals went out to several engineering firms after aldermen refused a sewage treatment rate hike, as long as the question of how many workers should staff the plant remains.

Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk, wastewater plant committee chairman, said confusion and conflicting versions of staffing requirements have brought the rate increase issue to a standstill.

Aldermen supported a compromise proposal for an independent firm to survey operations here, after voting down several staff number and rate increase possibilities in July. Suggested rate increases ranged from nine with seven employee layoffs to $8 per quarter with a full 26-member staff.

Mayor Paul Schuler has gone on record as opposing any increase over $4.50 per quarter.

City Clerk Robert W. Stevens opened the proposals last Friday. Firms submitting cost estimates requested fees from $8,000 to $7,500. Professional services are not necessarily accepted on a low bid basis, although an effort will be made to keep the cost as low as possible, Fisk said.

His committee will expect the chosen firm to give the city a written evaluation of the wastewater plant's staffing number and operating and maintenance expenses. The company also will be asked to complete a comprehensive federal Environmental Protection Agency form on the plant's operations.

Of the two low bidders — Henry, Meisner & Gende, Inc., Carlyle, Ill., and Black & Veatch, St. Louis — the latter outlined in its proposal a plan, which includes an engineering inspection of the plant, an examination of city records and question and interview session with plant management and staff personnel.

Most firms estimated the study would take about four to five days of on-site plant investigation with a total of 30 days to complete.

A engineering firm not submitting a specific bid amount, WVP Corp., St. Louis, stressed that they consider the "utmost diplomacy" needed to compile such a report.

"Often the city personnel that are assisting you in the evaluation are concerned that the results will bring out their weaknesses...and are reluctant to discuss the problems or bring out all the facts," a senior corporation associate stated.

"On the other hand, the parties involved with the control of the budget are often not aware of the complexity of the wastewater treatment facility nor the art and science of its operations," he stated.

No payments have yet been made on $175,000 budgeted for obligation bond reserves, which have been in technical default since 1977 and in violation of the bond ordinance agreement to fund improvements at the plant.

of the bare necessities, but still prefer religious books more than food or clothing.

"That is real. That is hunger," she said.

Mrs. Lvoff spoke slowly in heavily accented English and searched for the proper words. Fluent in Russian, French, Polish and English, Mrs. Lvoff translated in her mind before she spoke. Her stories were often startling.

Born near Moscow two weeks before the Russian Revolution started in 1917, Mrs. Lvoff's family moved to Paris when turmoil overtook the country.

The family lived among other Russian patriots in a Greenwich Village-type atmosphere. Renowned theologians and scholars — "an elite group of Russian patriots," according to Rev. Succarotte, were part of Mrs. Lvoff's early surroundings.

"My father wanted to go back. We were taught to be good Orthodox Christians, good Russian citizens," she said.

She took her idea to two friends, Mrs. Mary Meyendorff and Mrs. Lydia Kesch, both wives of professors in New York. "I said, 'come help me.' I came to dinner to explain what I found in Russia — spiritual hunger." Her friends joined in to help.

The first year RBR existed, it distributed 5,000 books to Russia. After the Afghan War started, RBR started sending publications to Russia through Europe.

An underground network was established. "It's not the black market," Rev. Succarotte said.

Mrs. Lvoff nodded assent and then told the story of Tatiana Velikanoff, an RBR distributor who was nabbed by Soviet authorities. "She was a fantastic distributor. Very young. A devotee distributor. She would put the books in a basket under cabbage leaves," Mrs. Lvoff said. Mrs. Velikanoff's husband, a professor of mathematics, was known to the government. So was Mrs. Velikanoff.

Since last year, Mrs. Velikanoff has been in a hard labor camp in Siberia. Regrettably, Mrs. Lvoff explained that she cannot contact her friend, for it is too dangerous.

When Mrs. Velikanoff first started distributing books for RBR, Mrs. Lvoff questioned her to make certain the dangers were understood. "I said to Tatiana, 'can you realize the danger?' She said, 'of course, I choose my life.'"

Spreads news

"It really is pathetic the life of priests in the Soviet Union," Mrs. Lvoff said.

Clergymen are forced to explain Orthodox teachings and readings to individuals or small groups because there are so few churches operating and because everything that is said in those churches is certainly monitored by the Soviet government.

Those who live such under suppression each day are amazed by the volume of religious material available in this country, Mrs. Lvoff told the story of a Russian-born man, now in Germany, who could hardly believe that the West is so saturated by good religious literature.

Even more difficult for the man to comprehend was the smug attitude of Americans about the literature. Mrs. Lvoff said the man had a book that was extremely worn; the page corners had small holes in them. She assumed the book was 20 years old or so. "It's not older than 18 months," the man told her.

The book had been passed around so many people in that period that it was constantly read.

It is that kind of "hunger" that Mrs. Lvoff devotes her life to lessen.

After she returned to New York from Russia in 1979, Mrs. Lvoff went to see the primate of the Orthodox Church of America, Metropolitan Theodosius. He blessed her future and, with it, the corporation she wished to establish.

From there she saw a lawyer who told her she could not establish the corporation alone.

She took her idea to two friends, Mrs. Mary Meyendorff and Mrs. Lydia Kesch, both wives of professors in New York. "I said, 'come help me.' I came to dinner to explain what I found in Russia — spiritual hunger." Her friends joined in to help.

The first year RBR existed, it distributed 5,000 books to Russia. After the Afghan War started, RBR started sending publications to Russia through Europe.

Goals of the program are promoting long range, career-employment opportunities for area youth, generating continuing interaction between regular vocational educational programs and CETA, and learning how to best achieve cooperation and coordination for long-term interaction and mutual growth.

Area business firms (96 in this area), labor organizations and school administrators cooperate in creating the basic foundation of the Linkage concept tests and promote the feasibility of developing positive attitudes toward work and education, involving participants who previously have not been able to adjust to a typical educational setting.

Job development at an early stage and learning what industry and business have to offer are among the program benefits, according to area labor leaders who are involved in Linkage.

Discovering their job interest, the cost is $14,500.

RBR also has found itself in a Catch-22 situation. Cheaper paper is heavier and, therefore, more expensive to send. Thinner paper is more expensive to purchase, but cheaper to ship. Every attempt is made to find quality paper that is somewhere between heavy and thin.

Fighting religious suppression in Russia is a dangerous task. Religious literature is banned there and those caught distributing it are sent to hard labor camps in Siberia.

Only 300,000 Bibles have been distributed by the Soviet government. Occasional, the government sends announcements to the West that the Bibles are being printed.

"A lot of them are sent to other countries because they (the Soviets) need foreign currency," Mrs. Lvoff said.

Those suspected of smuggling and distributing religious literature are "accused of undermining the Soviet government," Mrs. Lvoff said. "They (the Soviets) are not interested in politics," she stated, shaking her head.

The extent of hard labor is measured by how much work each distributor has done. The cost of copying literature in the country on typewriters or on Xerox machines, the labor camp is particularly rough.

But the believers, she said, are becoming more vocal and visible. During the last three years, churches have started to appear in churches. Previously, school-age children were not allowed to attend church. "During the last years, there are crowds of children. Rows of children. Nobody knows who brought them," she said.

The believers have grown "less fearful" and tourism has increased, forcing the state to accept the growing fervor, she said.

Site believers and advocates disappear into the night. The KGB prefers to do "a clean job" and capturing people in the dark prevents witnesses.

The KGB's (Soviet intelligence agency) American network is not lost to Mrs. Lvoff. She realizes that Soviet agents are established in this country. Yet, she has no fear, because her beliefs and feelings about her homeland run deep.

Although she first came to America in 1952 and has since lived in New York, which she says she loves, Mrs. Lvoff's heritage is the dominant part of her life. When asked if her husband was Russian, the answer was quick, "absolutely."

Her husband, Alexander, who died in 1977, fought in the White Army against Bolshevism when he was 18. As older Army members were killed, high school students were called to fight. He left Russia to join the White Army.

She still has friends and family, which she called, "a tribe," in Russia. Mrs. Lvoff knows nothing about her relatives there and it would be far too dangerous to try and contact them. In fact, her husband was "a relative of a relative," she said. "We are a tribe."

She repeated "we," and laughed. "The Lvoffs have unfortunately no children. Her dismay at not continuing the "tribe" was quelled with a soft smile.

Neither does she lament — at least not to visitors — her exile from Russia. Never again will she see the country or have the opportunity to track relatives or friends. "They (the Soviets) know who I am. I don't want to destroy them (friends and family)," she said.

Yet, she is content with her life. Living without fear, her work with RBR is completely accepted here. Satisfying the hunger for Russian Christians consumes her. And praying that her efforts will be understood, she said, "the believers intent upon defying suppression sustains her."

Talking about Death with Children

An exceptional audio-visual program, "Talking about Death with Children," was developed by Dr. Earl Grollman to explain basic concepts that can lead youngsters to a healthy understanding of death. This program is now part of our audio-visual library. And we're pleased to be able to offer it to individual families for their private viewing, and to teachers and health care professionals for use in classrooms and seminars.

Children as young as three may benefit from the message the program so sensitively portrays. It also provides an excellent guide for adults, not only in what to tell children about death, but how to tell them and what they can be expected to comprehend.

If you'd like more information on this outstanding A-V program, please feel free to call us at any time.

Unusual customer for a Monday — a snake

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

The first one through the door Monday morning at Walker's Jewels, 1237 Nineteenth St., was a picky, and somewhat unusual, customer. He was not happy with the store's selection of crystal. He was not too keen about the service either.

Refusing to leave the store when authorities arrived, he was so disgusted and unnerved that he tried to bite those who attempted to remove him from the premises.

It all started when Russ Walker, store owner, was unlocking the safe and heard a crash by the glass display shelves in the front of the store. Thinking a shelf had fallen, his wife, Willowden, went to investigate.

Much to her surprise, she found a black snake stretched out on the third shelf in the corner to the right of the entrance. The snake, which was about three feet long, apparently did not care for the crystal wine glasses and contaminator he knocked off the second shelf.

Obviously a discerning customer, the snake also had jarred several small punch glasses as he slithered along the floor and knocked over a candle holder on the second shelf. He then moved along the wall to the adjoining shelves, where he eventually curled up in the corner of the fourth shelf.

The Walkers, who prefer to do business with more conscientious customers, called the police and humane society workers soon arrived.

Paul Derossett and Carl Hozian of the humane society approached the snake to remove him from the store. When Derossett stuck out a gloved hand the snake, which was non-poisonous, prepared to strike.

Apparently unhappy at having his crystal shopping expedition disturbed, the snake hid behind a 25th wedding anniversary picture frame.

Walker's first thought was, "where did it come from?" Evidently, the snake had crawled through a small opening at the door base. "He was a little nervous. So was I," said Mrs. Walker of the snake and her own sentiments.

It was quite a beginning for a Monday morning. "I think I'll go back home and crawl in bed," Mrs. Walker said.

"You don't expect to find a snake in your crystal," her husband added.

Even more perplexing to Walker was how a snake made its way to the downtown area.

"I could see if there was a weeded area around here," he said.

With some perseverance, Derossett got the snake from behind the picture frame. But, not before the irate fellow stuck his teeth into the upper-right corner of the frame.

Hozian held a plastic trash bag open. Derossett stuck the squirming snake in and they knotted the bag.

The incident was the third snake call the humane society had received since Friday. "It's that time of year again," Derossett said. He said that the snake would be taken away from the city and released to catch mice and bugs.

HURRY! SALE ENDS OCT. 23, 1982

STEAL TOOLS

Hubert Dietl, 2221 Lee Ave., in reporting a burglary during the weekend, said a circular saw worth $59, an electric stapler, $69, electric sander, $40, a drill, $40, a leather nail apron, $30, and a hammer, $20, were stolen. Entry was gained by forcing a rear door.

FINED FOR CANNABIS

Richard Vernoy, 17, of 2028 Benton St. was fined $69 for possessing cannabis after being arrested at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday at the rear of the Kirkpatrick Homes recreation center. A boy, 16, also was charged and 15 cannabis cigarettes were confiscated.

BARRICADES STOLEN

Five barricades were stolen from the roadside of Illinois Route 3 south of the Merchant's Highline in Venice between last Thursday and Monday. The barricades are 3½ feet tall and 2 feet wide with yellow flashers on top.

MISS SUMMERTIME

Ann-Marie Campos, 13, winner in the 13 to 15 age group of the annual, Miss Summertime Pageant in Hartford, Ill., last month. She won the dress, beauty and talent competitions and earned overall high point honors. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Campos of Granite City.

Two hurt at Nameoki-Jill

Two persons were injured during the weekend in an accident on Nameoki Road at Jill Avenue and the driver of one vehicle, Virgil A. Carr, 78, was charged with failing to stop at a traffic light. Carr, who was traveling north on Nameoki Road, sustained an injury, but declined medical attention.

Operating the second auto involved was Gerald L. Voorhes, 3237 Wayne Ave. A passenger in his vehicle, Daniel Riggs, 1-year-old, 4052 Bruene Ave., also suffered an injury, the report stated.

Maxwell pushed for reports this fall showing how each new expenditure proposal would affect budget balances. He voiced worry that, without such data, the board will be "a rubber stamp."

Moore disagreed and said it is up to administrators to help monitor spending, adding that they will be held accountable if accounts are overspent. Owca obtained permission to concentrate on developing expanded computerization of financial records. He said detailed monthly analyses can then be provided to the board starting in January or sooner.

Supt. Davis supplied board members with copies of his staff's February 1978 budgetary reduction report. He commented, "It is interesting to note that the report's projections on future events were, in general, on target and have come to pass."

"State support in 1976 was in excess of half of our revenue. It now constitutes 45.2 percent."

"Our enrollment has continued to decline. Since 1971, we have experienced a 35 percent drop in pupil enrollment."

"In the report, Phase I had six areas of budget reduction and Phase II had six. All six areas in Phase I have been implemented, with only item 3 reactivated."

"Items 1 and 2 in Phase II have been implemented. Only item 3 has been undertaken in Phase III and this has resulted in the district streamlining operations in our support areas while still maintaining district management of these areas."

"The report can be used as a point of discussion. Decisions on our new cost reductions will need to be based on educational and financial rationale. Many times, these are not compatible with each other."

"The administration needs to know which rationale we are to use when they conflict." Specifics in the report are to be considered Sept. 28.

Extensive time was given Tuesday night to a review of the tentative budget and its new format. Owca said state-suggested breakdowns require that many of the cost and salary figures be divided among several budget categories, reflecting precisely how all materials and personnel are utilized. Many of the 504 certificated staff members are apportioned in segments of the school day to two or three different budget functions, he related.

Davis said 87 percent of the budget consists of personnel costs, for which commitments have been made for the current year.

With only 13 percent of the budget covering other costs, the superintendent added, budget cuts will be difficult in 1982-83. But immediate emphasis can be given to avoiding consuming budget expenditures wherever possible, he said.

Board Member Donald Stucke estimated that "of the 13 percent, we're already locked into at least 10 percent" through past decisions, leaving 3 percent to be considered.

Davis said that in addition to omitting some purchases, it may be possible to restrict hiring when there is staff attrition.

Board Member David Partney proposed that the board cut in half a $6,000 item budgeted for travel and a $92,700 allocation for textbooks, both part of "regular instruction," reducing "vocational program" listings of $14,000 for new equipment and $53,000 for replacement of equipment.

Charged with Intimidation

Michael C. Byington, 28, of 2850 E. 24th St., was fined $102 in a court appearance at 2:20 p.m. Monday on a charge of intimidation.

The charge stemmed from an incident taking place Sunday outside the home of Judith Moyers, 2902 Kirkpatrick Homes, where Byington allegedly yelled and threatened the woman, seeking to make her drop charges filed in a complaint the previous week against a relative of Byington's.

Two witnesses allegedly heard Byington voice threats against Mrs. Moyers. He was released Monday after paying the fine.

GOLF CLUBS STOLEN

A thief stole three golf club drivers, valued at $450, and three pairs of golf shoes, also worth $450, from a van parked in a driveway at the home of Craig Tarpoft, 1609 Clark Ave., he reported this week.

Fewer schools?

Owca said some of the equipment items sold could properly be shown as supplies. Davis said no equipment funds are being wasted, and reported that vans as much as 14 years old are still in use.

Owca pointed out that only 1.44 percent of the budget has been designated for contingencies, to cope with unexpected costs, although the state would permit a 5 percent contingency provision.

The finance director said exact budgeting is impossible because there are so many variables. An example cited was a teacher's decision part of the way through a school year to take future retirement and to begin receiving immediate payment for unused earned absences.

Owca added that even programs for which there is total reimbursement have to be included in the budget. And he said, expenditure of supply inventories must be noted even though no new buying is necessary.

He said new fiscal procedures will be of great benefit to administrators and to the district in providing prompt and accurate accountability for all programs, services and disbursements.

Owca explained how "functions" are itemized in the budget between salaries, employee benefits, purchased supplies, capital outlay, other objects, transfers and tuition.

He said income is attributed to local, intermediate, state and federal sources; expenses are grouped under instruction, support services, community service, non-program charges, debt service and contingencies; and breakdowns are given for regular programs, special programs, adult education, vocational programs, interscholastic costs, summer school, business, general administration and school administration.

With high school principals and district administrators participating in the discussion, the board reviewed telephone and postage cost trends.

It was noted that, due to the timing of the taxing process and of state budgeting, many spending projections have to be made long before the amount of probable revenue is known.

In addition, numerous amounts in the not-yet-enacted budget relate to expenditures that were made one or two months ago.

Because of long-standing financial limits, the district has been forced to forgo "fix it or live with it" policy rather than a true preventive maintenance program, the superintendent commented in opposing capital outlay decisions.

He added that mailings and telephone calls are valuable in maintaining contact with students' families.

When Partney asked whether the school system had approximately doubled the extent of its financial shortfall in the past year, Owca replied, "Yes."

The finance director said the district is retiring tax warrants from the past year totaling $3,596,000 in the education fund and $217,000 in the building fund. No other funds required warrants in '81-82.

With tax anticipation limited to 85 percent of the amount of the yearly tax levy, the first-year borrowing limits at present are about $6 million in the education fund and $850,000 in the building fund, Owca told the board.

Melton described various borrowing projections as "scary," necessitating radical changes. He said that while supply curtailments may be considered, the board will also have to deal with "big items" in the budget that is to be developed for the year that begins in July 1983.

Maxwell praised administrators for "scrapping on expenditures" but said financial records currently available do not give board members enough information on such cutbacks.

With final staffing decisions and notifications required by March, he urged that the board members be given sufficient time to develop and review "belt tightening" proposals.

Davis said the school administrators are providing him with information and suggestions and that proposals can be put into near-final form in November for inclusion on the agenda of the first board meeting in December. Melton suggested that the board clearly define the range of options so that administrators' research can be focused on the most helpful structural revisions.

Board Member Thomas Mlofsky said ending of second-year borrowing is only a minimum goal and that cutbacks may need to exceed that.

Supt. Davis described what is needed as "a miracle" and Melton asked for a diversity of options in the planning process.

Partney revived a suggestion he made at a previous public meeting—rollbacks in school employees' current pay to help achieve the district's goal. No one responded to his remarks.

Partney next said educational grants may be available to help finance school operations. He urged that administrators confer with the Danforth Foundation, and Moore said the possibility of grants undoubtedly will be among the topics pursued by the staff.

Maxwell's motion for action in December, seconded by Partney, was supported by Moore, Stucke, Melton and Mlofsky. Monroe Worthen was absent.

When the question of how many buildings should be operated arose, Moore said the board will not be in a position to decide that until it hears background information from the administration on the ramifications of various approaches.

Partney mentioned an $11,000 budget item for legal negotiations and was told this represents two years' work.

Maxwell said "I can't live with it" in response to Owca's explanation of how the financial staff will be utilized this fall and winter. The board secretary expressed surprise and disappointment that other board members did not join in his call for more details on expenditure "line items."

Owca said he will be meeting with auditors two days this week to prepare the audit for the district undertaking accounting duties formerly handled by outside firms. He stressed the importance of establishing an adequate "audit trail" on each transaction.

Maxwell said he fears the district is "nicked and dimed to death" through administrators' authority to make purchases costing up to $400 without competitive bidding.

Moore said he does not feel fully qualified to judge between the merits of competing ways of using instructional funds, and that this is why professional educators are employed. Maxwell said an extension of this attitude could result in "five-minute board meetings."

Partney called on administrators to delay some purchase requests while seeking more information on the need for them, and Assistant Supt. Frank Kraus said this happens regularly.

Supt. Davis said he was not yet prepared to suggest new financial sources but that he would do so in the coming weeks.

Schroeder moves to Florida, closes city's oldest real estate business

Herman Schroeder, a leading figure in the real estate field locally for the past three decades, left Granite City yesterday morning to pursue a career in real estate in Boyton Beach, Fla., a suburb of West Palm Beach.

Schroeder will be in business with realtor Don Lambert, a former Granite Cityan, starting Monday in Boyton Beach.

Schroeder will continue to own Granite City Realty, Gallery of Homes, here, although, it will not be in operation, a spokesman for Schroeder said.

Granite City Realty is the oldest continuous real estate agency in the city, tracing its origin to the establishment of the city by the Niedringhaus Family. He purchased the business from Tip O'Neill. A former owner was the late J.

Wesley Senef.

The Granite City Realty office at 1561 Johnson Road now is occupied by the Gitehof and Wallis law firm. About 150 persons attended a farewell party for Schroeder Friday night in downtown Granite City, including Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, State Rep. Sam Wolf and numerous aldermen and dignitaries.

Schroeder was "roasted unmercifully" by President of the Granite City Board of Realtors Bob Barton and mortgage broker Ed Reinagel during the event, the spokesman said. Music was provided by the Walt Schlemmer Band.

Schroeder was active in the GC Real Estate Board, where he had served as president, and was on the board of directors of the National Association of Realtors.

He was a traditional chairman of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce "play day" and held leadership roles in the Chamber, the Rotary Club, Associated Retailers, Multiple Listing Service, Elks, Society of Real Estate Appraisers, Granite City Lions and the Granite City Zoning Board of Appeals at various times.

Difficult economic times in the real estate business locally and the prospect of an improved real estate climate in Florida were cited as reasons for his decision to leave Granite City.

Home invaded by armed men

Mrs. Celestine Williams, 64 Grenzer Homes, Madison, was cleaning her refrigerator when she heard a loud noise and a man entered the kitchen and pointed a revolver at her, she told police last week. She also heard a second man go upstairs.

The intruder entering the kitchen was described as short and bearded. He was wearing a green shirt, beige pants and white rubber gloves and told the woman to lie on the floor.

Mrs. Williams' daughter, who was upstairs, said the second man also had a weapon. He wore a red shirt and had a towel wrapped around the hand which held the gun.

One of the men said, "Here he comes," believed referring to a friend of Mrs. Williams, and both men fled from the house, she said. Neither Mrs. Williams nor her daughter was injured.

Arrest after bullets hit 2 apartments

Dennis E. Wells, 34, of 1461 Seventh St., Madison, was charged with reckless conduct and unlawful use of a weapon after bullets were fired from a .38-caliber handgun at 8 p.m. Monday.

An investigation showed one bullet entered the kitchen wall of an apartment at 1736 Cleveland Blvd., traveled through the room and became imbedded in the far wall of the kitchen.

Bullets also are believed to have caused holes in wood outside an apartment at 1738 Cleveland.

Wells allegedly was at the rear of a relative's home at 1743 Delmar Ave. when several shots were fired westward across the alley.

A man who lives in the 1736-38 Cleveland multiple-apartment building said a dog from that address bit a young girl related to Wells Sept. 10.

In a court appearance at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Wells was fined $600.

CONDUCT ALLEGED

James Edward Gergen, 20, of 4920 Carl Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday and was freed on a notice to return for a hearing. Authorities said he was questioned after indecent exposure was reported by three girls and a woman at 4:30 p.m. Sunday near Johnson School.

HOME VANDALIZED HERE SATURDAY

Vandals entered the home of Bruce David on Nameki Road, Saturday between 7:30 p.m. and 1:30 a.m. and took a receiver, tape deck, coin collection and a shotgun. Assorted jewelry was taken, including a ladies' sapphire ring, a white-gold diamond ring, a ladies' watch, a birthstone ring with two diamonds, and a 1970 Granite City High School class ring.

No value was given. Drawers and closets were ransacked.

FINED FOR DAMAGE

Daniel A. Messick, 26, of 945 Niedringhaus Ave. was arrested at 10:40 a.m. Tuesday for breaking three windows and damaging a storm door of a home at 2141 Cleveland Blvd. He was fined $125 for property damage at a hearing that afternoon.

GC salon owner teaches courses

GARAGE BURGLARY

A two-way radio worth $55 and a tire gauge, $9, were taken from an auto in a garage burglary at the home of Floyd Williams, 1537 Lindell Blvd., it was reported this week.

Psalm 100:2... "Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing."

The most satisfying and fulfilling experience is that of serving God. The knowledge that we are doing something for Him fills a need within us that nothing else in the world can.

We were created by Him for His good pleasure. It is God's desire to have fellowship with us. He is most pleased when we are close to Him and certainly we are most happy when He is close to us.

One of the outstanding characteristics of a Christian is his joy. He is happy inside and it shows outside. He serves God with gladness.

Will you serve Him? Today.

Hunter safety course offered

The Granite City Park District is sponsoring a Hunters' Safety Course as one of its Fall programs.

Since July 1, 1976, no hunting licenses have been issued to any person under 16 years of age, except those showing either evidence that they held hunting licenses issued by the state of Illinois or another state in a prior year or a certificate of competence.

The Park District will offer a course for fathers and sons in "hunter ethics, wildlife management, first aid, firearms safety and survival techniques. Illinois law requires certification for all hunters under age of 16.

Sessions will be Monday evenings, Sept. 20, Sept. 27 and Oct. 4 at the Harold Brown Recreation Center from 6 to 9 p.m., and will be instructed by Lee Reed. It is compulsory that persons attending each session in order to qualify for a completed course. All teens must be accompanied by an adult. Participants must enroll at the park office. Classes will be limited to 30, those passing the course will be awarded a certificate.

CAR DOOR MISHAP

Jennifer Raynor, 13, of 2416 Illinois Ave., sustained an injury during the weekend when a motorist reportedly opened the left door of an auto, striking the bicycle and knocking her to the ground at 22nd Street and Cleveland Boulevard. The mishap damaged the bicycle and the driver left the scene, she told police.

Pharmacists to hear sheriff

The Madison County Sheriff's Department will present a program on crime prevention and steps to deter robbery and burglary for the Metro-East Pharmacists' Association's next meeting on Sept. 21 at 10 p.m. The program will be at Roustio's Restaurant, 204 N. Bluff, Collinsville.

Sheriff Emil Toffant and Lt. Robert Hertz of the Madison County Sheriff's Department will be coordinating this informative program. The program will precede the regular meeting of the association and all pharmacists and their interested business associates are being invited to attend.

HUD warning to county government

By PAIGE ST. JOHN
Madison County director of administration Mary Kane told Madison County Housing Authority commissioners that their delay in signing a fair housing plan is jeopardizing federal funds for the county.

She told them there were "rumors" that if no fair housing agreement is signed soon with the federal department of Housing and Urban Development, HUD discretionary funding to other county offices and programs could be cut off.

Housing authority staffs will meet next week with HUD officials, either here or in Washington, D.C., in an effort to come up with a workable desegregation plan.

She explained that through the Community Development office, the housing authority is tied into the rest of the county and that "in the event this is not resolved soon, it could have a detrimental effect on other county programs."

She urged the commissioners to make the agreement a "top priority" not in the next month, but in weeks.

Mrs. Kane added that, "Rumors are there could be a problem already" for other county offices.

Community Development director Cheryl Joubert said present, reiterating Mrs. Kane's statements.

HUD has already cut the housing authority off from discretionary funding (funds outside of the authority's annual budget that are made available throughout the year) until a fair housing plan is signed.

In addition, the authority was informed by its attorney, Joe Hill, that a HUD official has mentioned a lawsuit is waiting in the wings unless an agreement to eliminate alleged discriminatory housing practices is signed soon.

The authority has been wrestling with a fair housing plan for more than one year, after a 1981 HUD survey showed segregation in the county's public housing projects.

Through the housing plan, HUD is requiring the authority to integrate each of its projects to the same racial mix existing countywide.

Hill said a HUD official has said he will "refer it to the justice department, to the U.S. attorney, to sue us to accept some similar agreement."

The attorney added he thought there is still ample time for the authority to arrive at an agreement before HUD resorts to a lawsuit.

Housing authority executive director Janet Harolan later said Washington HUD officials, at the housing authority's request, are seeking permission to come to Madison County to work out an agreement.

If they can't make the trip, she will ask the board of commissioners to send a task force to Washington to develop a workable housing plan.

Commissioners realized the extent of their problems with the current fair housing agreement when Section 8 (subsidized housing) director Linda Belovich told them the plan would be impossible to implement.

The plan lumps all the programs administered by the housing authority together under the same guidelines, she said.

Major differences among the programs are ignored and, she said, some of the things HUD would have the authority do are not feasible.

"It would just be impossible to administer," she concluded.

Janet Harolan said she is recommending the fair housing plan be split into two sections, to deal with Section 8 and conventional housing separately.

A major rewrite of the plan will take care of numerous other problems commissioners have had with the agreement, including ambiguous wording and reversed discrimination, she hopes.

The agreement won't necessarily make the commissioners happy, she said, "but at least it will be something we can work with."

The authority has already lost chances of receiving up to $4.1 million (actual funding probably would have been much less) of modernization funds from HUD in August because no fair housing agreement was Janet Harolan said no requests for discretionary funding from the authority are pending now with HUD, but Community Development was in the process of requesting HUD funds to cover a 20-unit demonstration and rehabilitation program.

In addition, the authority was informed by its attorney, Joe Hill, that a HUD official has mentioned a lawsuit is waiting in the wings unless an agreement to eliminate alleged discriminatory housing practices is signed soon.

The authority has been wrestling with a fair housing plan for more than one year, after a 1981 HUD survey showed segregation in the county's public housing projects.

Through the housing plan, HUD is requiring the authority to integrate each of its projects to the same racial mix existing countywide.

Hill said a HUD official has said he will "refer it to the justice department, to the U.S. attorney, to sue us to accept some similar agreement."

The attorney added he thought there is still ample time for the authority to arrive at an agreement before HUD resorts to a lawsuit.

Housing authority executive director Janet Harolan later said Washington HUD officials, at the housing authority's request, are seeking permission to come to Madison County to work out an agreement.

If they can't make the trip, she will ask the board of commissioners to send a task force to Washington to develop a workable housing plan.

Commissioners realized the extent of their problems with the current fair housing agreement when Section 8 (subsidized housing) director Linda Belovich told them the plan would be impossible to implement.

South recovers after DuBourg; shuts out Maroons

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record
BELLEVILLE — Belleville West is not the strongest team on Granite City South's soccer schedule this year, but the Warriors' 4-0 victory Wednesday was as important as the other six that preceded it.

The Warriors played four games against tough opponents — New Trier, Glenbrook North, Evanston and Bishop DuBourg — in the last seven days. The strong opposition forced the Warriors to use their starters extensively.

Belleville West wasn't a pushover, but Warrior coach Gene Baker had the chance to give some of his starters a well-deserved rest.

"This was an important game for us," Baker said. "We didn't play every one of the starters the whole game, and that was good for us because some of the kids needed the rest."

The other reason why Wednesday's game was so important was because of South's 3-0 loss to Bishop DuBourg Monday. The Warriors showed they could come back off a major defeat and play good ball the next game.

"This was an important game for us . . . We didn't play every one of the starters the whole game . . . some of the kids needed the rest."

Gene Baker
Warrior soccer coach

"We told them how to hand the loss, and we tried to put the loss in perspective for them. We tried to look at the real significance of the game and told them it doesn't hurt us to lose just one game to a tough opponent. We came back tonight and had a good game," Baker said.

The Warriors were patient and very successful with a deliberate offensive game. South took its time in setting up their 20 shots in the game.

South scored its first goal with four minutes gone in the game. Bill Hency stole the ball from the Maroons in their defensive zone and scored an unassisted goal just four minutes into the game.

Four minutes later, Barry Grote took Sam Mendoza's pass and placed it in the goal. After that goal, the game was out of Belleville's reach.

Immediately after that goal, Baker put in sophomore Brett Cook and Mike Houston to give them needed playing experience. Baker rested striker Nathan Crane, and sophomore Scott Grote started.

"I thought Cook, Houston and Grote looked good tonight. They got in some good experience that they needed. The starters needed to relax a little after a tough week, and they got to play and did a good job," Baker said.

Belleville West played pesky defense at times, but the offense could not get any real scoring opportunity going. The Maroons had to play defense most of the game.

"When we were playing tight on defense, we did a good job of controlling them," West coach Carl Bauer said. "When we didn't concentrate on defense, we scored. We tried to relax sometimes on defense, but you can't do that against a team like South."

Phil Popmarkoff, who missed a penalty kick by guiding the kick just to the left of the goal, came back with an unassisted goal with six minutes gone in the game.

"Popmarkoff had a good goal there. I was impressed by his play tonight," Baker said.

The futility of West's defensive efforts caused the Maroons to become frustrated.

After Popmarkoff's goal, two Belleville players, Mark Cordes and Trevor Anglin, received red cards and were ejected from the game. In all, West received four yellow cards while South had three yellow cards.

No South players were ejected from the game.

With Belleville shorthanded, Paul Macios fired a shot at West goalie Dave McCammon. The shot deflected off McCammon's hands to the left side of the goal, and Houston put the rebound in the goal with a minute and a half left in the game.

"When you have frustrated kids out there, they'll go somewhere and do something they usually wouldn't do. We picked up some yellow cards that we deserved," Bauer said.

Baker said Bauer, a first year coach at West, is doing a good job of building their program. "They've got lots of speed and good defense. Carl's building a team will give a lot of teams some problems."

Macios scored two goals in the junior varsity game to give South a 3-0 victory. South outshot the Maroons 43-6 in that game.

South, 7-1 for the season, plays Belleville East Saturday at the Gauntlet. The junior varsity game starts at 11 a.m.

Griffins soar past Steelers, 4-0

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record
KIRKWOOD — For the last several weeks, Bob Kehoe, Granite North soccer coach, has said that when the Steelers played Vianney, the game would be an experience.

It is probably questionable as to what kind of experience the 4-0 Vianney win provided the team — humbling is the best bet.

Vianney had an incredible advantage — aside from playing at home — because North took only 15 field players and two goalkeepers. Vianney had almost three full fields of players to work with.

When Mike Villa, Vianney coach, made substitutions a couple of times each quarter, he sent in 10 players at a time and allowed those who came off the field to rest.

For the majority of the game, he used two teams of 11 and 10 players to work the Steelers over. After holding Vianney to one goal during the first, North was showing the wear and tear by the middle of the second half.

"Villa turned toward his reserve at that time and called for everybody who hasn't been in the game yet," he said. "Incredibly, nine players showed up. There were not even enough shirts to go around without trading."

"I think talent-wise they're a better

"Their depth is what got us. They wear you down and you've got nothing to match that."

Bob Kehoe
Steeler soccer coach

team. You don't lie to yourself," Kehoe said. Overall, however, he said, "their depth is what got us. They wear you down and you've got nothing to match that."

Vianney dominated from the beginning. Jim Jackson scored on an assist from Tim Hylla in the first and from then, North was able to hold off the Griffin's offense.

Steve Tritschuh made some fine defensive plays from the backfield. And, generally, North's young defense did an admirable job. Still, Vianney was able to take 16 shots to North's two.

Steelers goalkeeper Rick Branding made nine saves while Vianney's goalkeeper made only one.

When North's offense was able to control the ball, the Vianney defense moved in with force to take over. It was in the second half that Vianney really controlled as North players became worn down.

It looked like the Steelers were going to hold the Griffins when thunder rumbled in the distance and lightning danced in the air directly above the field. Several spectators, players and cheerleaders felt the crackle and the game was delayed 15 minutes.

Both teams came back rested and Vianney took over. Pat Corley fired a shot of his left foot from 30 yards out that went in. Immediately after the center, Rick Shaeffer scored. Vianney started to take some wild shots after that.

Near the end, Rick Brennan put in the fourth goal unassisted.

Kehoe said after the game that he "admires" his team for their effort. The Steelers now are 3-3-1.

Steeler, Warrior gridders take show on road

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

Both Granite City High School football teams will take their shows on the road Friday evening as the Steelers travel to Collinsville and the Warriors travel to O'Fallon. Both the Steelers and the Warriors are looking for their first wins this season.

Last Friday, the Steelers fell to Roxana, 28-4, while the Warriors were shut out by Belleville East 55-0.

Both Collinsville and O'Fallon, however, won their season openers last Friday and will be looking for their second victories this season.

Last Friday, the Kahoks edged Edwardsville 13-10 when Kahok place kicker Tom Motin booted a 22 yard field goal with only 52 seconds remaining.

Granite North

O'Fallon picked up its first win defeating Mt. Vernon 19-0.

"I'm really pleased with our defensive showing last week," said Gary Bridell, O'Fallon's coach. "And our offense didn't do too bad either."

Bridell said overall his team is better than last year's edition that posted a 5-4 record. O'Fallon is a member of the Mississippi Valley Conference.

The quarterback for the Panthers Friday will be junior Todd McClure. This is McClure's first year on the varsity squad.

Rounding out the Panther backfield will be Alan Scott at fullback, Troy Robinson at halfback and Mark Warac as the flanker.

Defensively, the Warriors can expect a fifty-two defense of the Panthers, Bridell said.

Against Collinsville, the Steelers can expect to see Casey Smith at quarterback with Sean Bethel, Mike Bradford and Brett Holten at fullback.

Last week against Edwardsville the Kahok running game mustered a mere 113 yards to Edwardsville's 211 yards, but a cleaner, less penalized Kahok attack proved fatal for the Tigers.

There was some bad news out of the Warrior camp this week. South's tight end and defensive end, John Adams, expected to fill North's backfield.

One question wasn't clear at press time: the condition of state field goal record holder Daren DePew. Last week DePew sprained his ankle. Offensively, DePew's leg is North's equalizer. Last week Marty Steinmeyer did DePew's kicking chores.

Trojanette volleyballers defeat Aton

MADISON — The Madison Trojanette volleyball team defeated the Aton Red Wings last night. Madison came from behind in both matches to defeat Aton 16-14 and 15-12.

"Everyone played well. Our key was a big block by Regina Banks," said Carol Stearns-Cole, coach of the Trojanette spikers.

"We played much better tonight than we did last week at Assumption High School. I am very pleased with how the girls played," Mrs. Cole said.

Serving seems to be Madison's biggest problem. Although it was better than usual last night, Mrs. Cole said it needs much more work.

"Sure, I was worried about the second game, but it seems as though everything is coming together," Mrs. Cole said.

With a 1-1 record, Madison will compete in the Wood River Tourney this weekend. The spikers will also play at Collinsville Monday.

SIUE rated first; Nike tourney begins

EDWARDSVILLE — When Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's head soccer coach, Bob Guelker, scheduled a Clemson University, Hartwick College and Penn. State University for the SIUE-NIKE Tournament, he knew it would be one of the best mid-season tournaments in the country, but little did he expect that all four teams would be ranked among the top 12 in the NCAA.

Of little did he expect that the number one and number two ranked teams in the poll would have an opportunity to meet head to head.

With the SIUE-NIKE

Tournament kicking off Friday at 6 p.m., the Cougars have learned that they will enter the tournament as the number one ranked team in the nation. Clemson, which the Cougars defeated in 1979 national championship game, comes in ranked second while Hartwick has been tabbed as the 10th best team in the U.S. and Penn. State has received the 12th spot.

Clemson will kickoff the two-day tournament Friday at 6 p.m. when they battle Hartwick. The Cougars will stage a re-match of the 1979 NCAA semifinal game at 8 p.m. when they take on Penn. State.

The Cougars enter Friday's clash with an unblemished 4-0 record, having defeated Avila College (2-0), the University of Evansville (3-1), Southern Methodist University (2-0) and North Texas State University (4-2). Tickets for the SIUE-NIKE Tournament are available at the SIUE Athletic Department or by calling (618) 692-2871.

kick taken by Darrell Newsome. Seconds later, Gibault scored on a penalty.

Briggs said the call was pushing, but that the Trojan who made the foul did not have his hands up. "It was more like obstruction which is a two-kick," he said.

The shot, he said, was "very well taken" into the lower right corner. Goalkeeper Leroy Pryor did not have a chance to move for the ball before it went in.

Pryor played a good game — his second ever in goal — stopping three or four blank shots.

Madison still is having problems on offense. While the defense is moving the ball downfield well, the offense has trouble penetrating the goal area.

By the third quarter, the defense started to become fatigued because they were forced to play especially hard against the Gibault offense's "constant pressure."

The Trojans host O'Fallon this afternoon at 4. The defense, Briggs said, will be the key to the game against O'Fallon.

"And the offense has got to decide to score goals," he said. Madison now is 2-1 after Tuesday night's forfeit by Bethalto which has not been able to field a varsity team.

Waterloo-Gibault downs Trojan kickers

Bishop DuBourg hands Warrior kickers first loss

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — Any loss would have been difficult, but Granite South's 3-0 defeat Monday night to Bishop DuBourg was particularly tough.

It was the Warriors' first loss of the season and although 6-1 is not a shabby record, the effect of the game was written on every team member's face.

Prior to the game at Heine Meins field, South had been scored on only once, during Saturday's 4-1 championship win against Evanston at the Glenbrook North Tournament.

"It's tough to come back against a good team," said Gene Baker, South coach.

Perhaps more troublesome than the shutout was DuBourg's manner of play which was extremely rough. With 21 fouls, DuBourg ostensibly had more infractions that were not called. South had 14 fouls during the game.

During the first half, a fight broke out that ended up off the field. Jim Gibson of South and Tim Miramonti of DuBourg were ejected. Mike Visconti of DuBourg was given a yellow card after kicking the ball high into the air out of the crowd of people gathered around the scene.

Spectators at that end of the field blamed the fight on the referees saying a whistle should have been blown when the play started to get rough.

Gibson was immediately surrounded by DuBourg players during the incident which occurred close to the DuBourg bench.

Referee Dick Scholty gathered both teams on the field before play was resumed and lectured them as to how the remainder of the game was to be played.

"I'm not gonna say it one more time. We're gonna play soccer out here. Do I make myself perfectly clear? I'll end this game and I'll end it now," he said angrily.

Shortly after the game resumed, Baker commented about where both benches were situated.

"Look at their bench," he said scolding down the field to DuBourg. "All of the players not in the game stood right behind the sideline in a cluster close to where the fight had been."

"Look at our bench," he said. South players sat on bleachers.

"And they (the referees) wonder why there's a fight with four guys on one."

Before the fight, control had been split between both teams.

South had several spectacular runs with the ball notably one by Barry Grote.

Granite South Warriors

Taking the ball a little past midfield, Grote dribbled toward the DuBourg goal. Working his way past, around and through player after player, Grote controlled the ball. Back and forth he went, turning and twisting to keep the ball. When he took the shot it went wide.

"This boy's something else," Baker said after the game.

DuBourg took possession and Bill Hartzel scored on an assist by Paul Morgan at the 18-minute mark.

Grote again took charge for South with a hard shot that sent DuBourg goalkeeper Steve Davila sailing. The ball went off Davila's outstretched hands and out of the area.

South's Phil Popmarkoff took the ball on a break toward the goal and shot, but Davila, who was protected by two defenders, made the save.

At the half, South had two shots on goal to DuBourg's seven. By the end of the game, the shot total was in South's favor with 13 to DuBourg's 10.

Bill Hency started the second half with a run down the left side, but defender Tom Donnelly, kicked the ball out of the center.

Both teams worked to dominate and DuBourg eventually took the ball. South goalkeeper Jeb Blasingame came out for a sliding save to prevent DuBourg from getting any closer.

With South maintaining possession most of the half, Baker plotted goal-scoring strategies which were well executed, but fell short.

Off a throw in, South bunched into the goal area pulling the defense into the cluster. Fritz Brewer made a break, but the shot was saved.

Later, Grote did much the same on a break from the crowd but Davila again made the save.

DuBourg took control off the kick and Tony Segobiani played some extraordinary defense, first with a head ball out of the center and then on a slide tackle. But Visconti persisted and put the second goal past Blasingame into the left of the net.

Not long after that, Visconti scored again. Sam Mendoza headed the ball away from the area, but was undercut by DuBourg players and came down hard. Visconti took over and shot. Blasingame stopped the ball, but it hit him hard and went out of his arms into the goal.

Baker credited DuBourg with having "a lot of talent," but he obviously was upset by DuBourg's roughness. He said he anticipated the team would be rough, but the loss was particularly difficult to fathom.

He said: "You can lose in different fashions."

Venice spikers down Livingston

"Team cooperation" was the key to success for Venice Red Devils girls' volleyball team to defeat Livingston Eagles last night, 2-1. Although the game was close, the Red Devils pulled ahead in the final match 13-12.

"It looked like a lot of team work to me. We worked together well as a unit," said Ken Perkins, coach of the Red Devil Spikers.

Controlling their respective positions, Venice covered alot of ground throughout the game, according to Perkins. "We're got alot of young players, but some pretty fair jumpers," Perkins claims.

"Letitia Miller is an exceptional spiker and she played a good game. We often look to her when she's on the front line," Perkins said. "Cassandra White did alot for us too, with a lot of big blocks," he added.

Rose Harmon, approximately five feet tall, played well at the net, blocking most of the night.

Jackie Chatman generally hussled on the court. She is a good athlete and she made many saves.

PLAYING TIGHT. Phil Popmarkoff of Granite City South moved to a halfback for Bishop DuBourg during Monday's game at Heine Meins Field near St. Louis. Bishop DuBourg defeated the Warriors 3-0, ending South's six game winning streak.

Madison gridders fall to Cougars 21-6 in opener

By A.L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor

MADISON — Those people who missed last Saturday's Madison vs. Breese Central football game might find it difficult to believe that the game, which ended in a 21-6 victory for the Cougars, was a close contest.

It was a game that clearly began as a defensive battle, but in its twilight diminished to a Cougar offensive display.

Alvin Vonderhaar, Madison's coach, was disappointed in the loss, but "it was a learning experience for the younger kids," he said. "We had to jostle our line somewhat...it was more or less a makeshift (offensive) line."

The Madison coach said he was pleased with his team's performance, excluding the penalties: one of which, a clipping penalty, nullified an interception for a touchdown by Allen Boyd.

In the opening quarter, both defenses displayed hard-hitting, aggressive play as was evidenced by the early turnovers. On Breese's first possession, in a third and six situation, the Madison defense forced a Cougar fumble. Reggie Banks, defensive end for the Trojans, recovered a Jeff Solis fumble to give Madison possession.

Madison's possession was brief — two plays to be exact, before the Trojans reciprocated the act, forcing a Trojan fumble to regain possession.

Breese was the first of two teams to pick up a first down, and did so on its second possession, but that was the only highlight of the brief drive as Central surrendered the pigskin to the first up Trojan defense.

Both offenses stalled most of the first half primarily to the dominant defenses. Part of Madison's problem on offense was their inexperienced line. Walter Davis, Madison's right tackle, did not play Saturday due to "an altercation" at school prior to Saturday's game. Also missing from the Trojan line was senior Sam Price.

Madison's offensive situation improved after Trojan defensive back A. C. Ware set up Madison's fifth possession when he recovered a Cougar third and eight fumble on Central's 35 yard line. The fumble recovery set an eventual score by Madison's Richard Butler. Butler's score from the one yard line was set up by his 23-yard run by with 9:10 remaining in the half.

Earlier in the scoring drive, Kelly Scrum rushed for two consecutive first downs to keep the Madison offensive alive. It was when the Cougars began keying on Scrum that things opened up for Butler, enabling him the hole. Scrum rushed for 136 yards on 21 carries, while Butler carried 11 times for 61 yards.

The Trojan's attempt at a two-point conversion sweep to Scrum failed.

It appeared with only 60 seconds remaining in the half, the Trojans would head for the locker room in the half with a 6-0 lead, but it didn't happen.

Following a Brian Papa punt to the Madison 12 yard line, the Cougars mounted an offensive drive capped by a halfback sweep left to Ken Luebbers that scored with eight seconds remaining in the half. A completed conversion gave the Cougars a 7-6 halftime lead.

Luebbers, who proved to be the Central workhorse, rushed 16 times for 183 yards or 68 percent of the 268 total Cougar offensive net.

In the second half, the Trojans executed a drive that began on their own 25 yard line. A series of runs by Scrum and Victor Valentine moved Madison inside the Cougar 30 yard line.

At 6:10, in a fourth and three situation, the Trojan drive stalled. On a fourth and three situation, the Trojans were threatening.

The Cougars called the call to sweep left while Butler was called on to block. As the play developed, Scrum was hit and bobbled the ball. The pigskin went up and miraculously came down in the arms of Butler. The stocky Butler rushed for the first down.

At that point, things appeared to be going in favor of the Trojans, but soon after things changed.

At the six minute mark of that same drive, the Trojans began a series of plays that took them to within the Central 20 yard line. For the first time since Butler's run in the first half, the Trojans were threatening.

At that point, things began to sour for the Trojans. A desperation fourth down Valentine pass in the end zone was knocked down by Breese's Brian Knapp. The Trojans came up empty.

"That's what did it to us," Vonderhaar said afterwards. "At that point, the kids were down," he said. Breese added to their score with :34 seconds remaining when Solis went in behind center Sean Kennedy. The score was academic.

Defensively, Terry Guest led the Trojans with a total of nine tackles. Shawn Brown teamed for a total of seven.

Madison has an open schedule this Saturday, but next Saturday, Sept. 25, the Trojans travel to Assumption for a 1 p.m. contest.

Quad-Cities welcome Hartigan, again

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Although the turnout was lighter than expected, Neil Hartigan, Democratic attorney general, greeted local persons enthusiastically during a fund-raising dinner in his behalf Monday night at Charlie's Restaurant. It was his second appearance here this summer in his campaign.

Speaking of the record of the attorney general's office under the incumbent, Ty Fahner, Hartigan stated, "It is time that we end business as usual in Illinois. People expect more from the Democratic party."

Hartigan challenged Fahner to release the records showing how his office is spending more than $35 million a year. He contended that Fahner is refusing to release the total attorney general's budget, "which should be part of the public record."

Noting high unemployment in this area and throughout the state, Hartigan stated, "There are 700,000 human beings (in Illinois) out of work tonight. Anyone who has anything to help must do it. It is time to put people back to work."

Hartigan hinted that he could use his influence as attorney general to help attract businesses and contracts for work to Illinois. He said he does not believe a tax increase will be needed in the state if the Democratic slate is elected. "We just have to make sure that every tax dollar supposed to be collected in this state is collected and used for the goals of this office," he told the gathering.

"I can turn this office into the office that will help the people of this state. We can take the total legal services of this state and become the attorney for the people," he noted.

Fahner alleged that $150 million to $300 million is wasted each year in Medicaid fraud and overpayment and said the Fahner was the "designer of that program (Medicaid)."

The attorney general's office also should take a more active role as the people's advocate in rate hike hearings before the Illinois Commerce Commission. "The utilities spend millions of dollars trying to convince the ICC to raise rates, but the state and the people do not devote anywhere near that much to fight the rate hikes," he said.

A major goal of the attorney general's office should be assuring "an efficient supply of energy at a cost the consumers can afford,"

Hartigan stated.

Hartigan also told the group that he feels the office should provide stronger representation for the elderly. "We are driving 5,000 persons (a year) into nursing homes who do not need to be there," he said, noting that proper home health care programs could keep as many as 32,000 of them in their homes. "Who's to stand up in this state if it isn't the attorney general?" he asked.

More should be done about consumer fraud, he believes, such as instituting a team of "professional shoppers," as in New York, who shop at various stores to check merchandise and prices and be sure that the prices advertised and marked are the prices actually charged.

Hartigan asked for the assistance of Madison County Democrats in financing his campaign and alleged that Fahner, "a person who never ran for office before," has raised about $500,000, far more than Hartigan believes he can raise.

Temporary injunction in school suit

A temporary injunction issued Wednesday morning in Jerseyville against the Granite City school system was appealed the same day to the appellate court in Mount Vernon.

Judge Howard Lee White of Jersey County said a Granite City woman, 21, can be admitted to classes for up to one semester. The district contends she was certified for graduation in the spring of 1982 and no longer is eligible.

The appeal cites existing laws and a new state education office ruling, all taking the position that a student cannot continue in public secondary classes beyond the school year in which the age of 21 was reached.

Circuit Judge A. A. Mateosian, who earlier appealed unsuccessfully to State Superintendent of Education Donald Gill for a hearing, filed suit in August for a permanent injunction. His view is that her continuation in high school would be of more benefit to the student than it would be of harm to the school system.

A hearing has not yet been held on the permanent injunction request. Yesterday's decision was on a new lawsuit that asked for a temporary court order.

Judge White ruled that Judge Mateosian must post a $4,000 bond to indemnify the district against costs incurred in providing instruction.

The school district says it cannot legally utilize tax funds, state aid or federal revenue for the education of an individual who is over 21. A special education student is the subject of the litigation.

Chief Circuit Judge Joseph Barr approved a change of venue Aug. 27, leading to the assignment of an outside judge, since the suit was initiated by a Third Circuit judge.

Chapter meets in Collinsville
Parliamentary procedure was the subject of a program presented by Norma Hente at a meeting of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Judy Bartl, 60 Carnation Drive, Collinsville, for the session.

After other business discussions the meeting was adjourned and refreshments served by the hostess. Also attending were Teri Davis, Joan Pritchard, Barbara Hente, Anastasia Elleff, Cookie White, Vickie Thomas and Jane Carbone.

Garden cleanup time has arrived in county

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser

Now is the time to clean up the garden and plan for next year. Production areas should be kept weed-free until harvest, and the harvested areas should be cleaned of plants, weeds and garden props.

The spent plant materials—potato vines, straw mulch, bean tops, corn stalks and even weeds—Should be composted or incorporated in the soil by spading or plowing.

The compost or organic matter will improve the soil structure and result in better growing conditions next year. However, if the weeds have gone to seed, they are best removed from the garden area and destroyed. Burning of garden trash is a good sanitation procedure but that is all. The improved soil structure from added organic matter is usually more valuable than benefits gained from burning.

The few ashes left from burning don't contain many nutrients and are not very important in a fertilizer program.

Green plant material decomposes more rapidly than dry material. Thus, green material cut or mixed with the soil now will be broken down by spring.

Dry plant materials such as corn stalks and tomato vines tend to persist through the winter and interfere with cultivation next year. Composting, shredding or incorporation into the soil will eliminate this problem.

21-state rail merger

The Interstate Commerce Commission on Monday approved by a 5-1 vote the proposed merger of three railroads—the Missouri Pacific (based in St. Louis), Union Pacific (Omaha) and Western Pacific (San Francisco).

The new railway will have 22,900 miles of track and will span 21 states. Included is Missouri Pacific trackage from this metropolitan area to Chicago.

ICC Chairman Reese Taylor said the commission endorsed "a private-sector proposal to enhance efficiency and competition while providing improved service to shippers."

Southern Pacific, which fought the merger plan for two years, has asked the U.S. Court of Appeals to reverse the decision.

The three lines that are merging had combined revenue of $4.2 billion last year. UP and MP had combined profits of $315 million.

The new railroad, which stretches to the West Coast, will be the nation's third largest in track miles, behind Burlington Northern and CSX (Chesapeake and Seaboard). It will be the second biggest in revenue.

Tomato stakes and cages, pebbles, pots, string cans, plastic jugs and other types of non-degradable garden supports should be removed from the area and piled neatly and safely for winter.

If they are to be re-used, clean off the attached plant residue as part of the sanitation program.

In planning for next year's garden, it is best to note where various crops were planted this year so that next year's crops will be rotated or planted in a different area. In larger garden areas, this is an especially good sanitation procedure.

September is also a good time to collect a soil sample for analysis.

If you feel that the garden didn't produce properly from fertility problems or if there is a question about the need for lime, phosphorus and potash, this is the correct approach.

Each county Agriculture Extension Service office is equipped to make fertilizer recommendations on the basis of a reliable soil test.

DeMolay Mothers district meet set

Members of DeMolay Mothers Club of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will attend a District DeMolay and Mothers Club meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the Ascelon Chapter in Collinsville.

The announcement was made by Ruby Sullivan, president of the local club, at the first meeting of the season held in the Masonic Temple.

All attending recited the pledge of allegiance followed by the Mother's Prayer offered by Chaplain Rene Buckingham.

The president introduced two new members, Debbie Pritchett and Beth Carner prior to the business segment.

Those planning on attending the district meeting are to meet on the Reese Drug Store parking lot of Bellemore Village Shopping Center at 6:30 p.m., the president noted.

The session closed with the Mother's Creed. Hostesses for the evening Louise Favier and Beth Carner served refreshments to those named and to Ginny Cotter, Hilda Few, Lois Hebbethwaite, Barbara McKinney, Jo Meyer, Beverly Singleton, Mary Stuart, Verna Stuart, Pat Tsigalarof, Anne Wofford and Charlotte Mize.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 5.

Summer outing for gardeners

Members and guests of the Garden Study Club motored to the country home of Mrs. Wilmer Winter near Lemburg, Ill., for a summer outing and business meeting, last week.

After luncheon was served the members answered roll call with a garden tip. A note of appreciation was read from Madison Middle School for the trees planted there by club members on Arbor Day.

An invitation was also read from the Lakeview Garden Club to attend a flower show on Sept. 18 and a Sept. 24 show sponsored by the Mascoutah Garden Club.

A program on Slugs and Snail Control was given by Mrs. Norma Crenshaw. Members also agreed to donate plants to the Madison Middle School Library for the fall and winter season.

Mrs. Evelyn Ferro, a guest, read a poem entitled "Footprints in the Sand" at the end of the meeting and then members and guests were taken on a tour of the flower and vegetable gardens at the Winter home.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Carl (Marguerite) Huessemann, Mr. and Mrs. Will (Clara) Winter, Mrs. Lucille Broyles, Mrs. Norma Crenshaw and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ferro and Mrs. Nick Kostof.

Evening Guild fetes members

The first in a series of fall meetings of the Evening Guild of St. John United Church of Christ, was held Monday evening in the Fellowship Hall at the church.

President Doris Labaray welcomed 22 members and installed Mrs. Sarah Bryant as a new member.

A potluck dinner was served by Barbara Suess, Marian Hamilos, Harriet Bunselmeyer and Delores Gaines followed by devotions presented by Mrs. Hamilos and Mrs. Gaines. Mrs. Suess also read a poem entitled, "What Is A Friend."

Birthday members who were accorded special honors included Mrs. Bunselmeyer, Mrs. Hamilos, Doris Oliver, Mrs. Suess, Nancy Boyer, Mrs. Gaines and Mary Hockstra.

During the business session the members agreed to give the birthday money for the year to Protestant Welfare. Linda Sturman presented the president with a gift in appreciation of her service during the past year.

The 1982-83 officers were then installed by Helen Robertson. They include Linda Sturman as president, Karmyn Wagner, vice-president, Ruth Squires, treasurer, and Mary Hockstra, secretary.

Thelma Suess distributed tickets to each member to sell for the annual sausage supper and bazaar scheduled for Oct. 17 from 11:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. Tickets are available now at a cost of $4 for adults, $2 for children six to 10 years old and those under the age of six will be admitted free, she added.

The meeting closed with the Least Coin devotion led by Mrs. Hamilos and the remainder of the evening was spent in working on bazaar items.

The president announced the Oct. 4 meeting will be held with the Evening Guild of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ and the program will be a demonstration on flower arranging by Shirley Kibort.

Second child for Mr. &amp; Mrs. Alexander

Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Joyce) Alexander, 7105 Troecker Lane, Mitchell, are announcing the birth of their second child, a daughter, born on Sept. 4 at Oliver Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

They have selected the name of Mamie Mariska for the infant, who weighed seven pounds 12 ounces. She has a 6-year-old brother, Chad.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Haldeman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander, all of Granite City. Maternal great-grandparents are Mrs. Stella Kowalewicz of Granite City, and Mrs. Ada Haldeman of West Chester, Penn., and paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Omers of Hurst, Ill.

Chapter committees named

Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held its Beginning Day event at 4010 Braden Ave., hosted by Mrs. Carole Cathey, chapter president.

She announced the theme for the 1982-83 year will be The Golden Key to Friendship and the cultural program will be on book reviews given by chapter members. They will select the book they wish to review with the initial program to be given by Linda Koening at the first regular session.

A key was given to each one to be used later in conjunction with a year's theme for selection of a treasure chest winner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sotiroff

Sotiroff-Sieck

The wedding of Miss Joanne Sieck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sieck, 10405 McConnell Road, Woodstock, Ill., and George C. Sotiroff, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Sotiroff, 2308 Edwards St., was solemnized on July 17 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Woodstock.

Officiating at the 3 o'clock afternoon service was the Rev. William Joffe. Nuptial selections were provided by the St. Mary's Folk Choir and a sister-in-law of the bride.

Guests were received at a reception held at the Branded Steak House in Crystal Lake, Ill., after the service.

The newlywed couple took a wedding trip to Door County, Wis., and are now residing in Woodstock, Ill.

Attending the bride as honor attendant was Marge Sotiroff, a sister of the groom, and Theresa and Tina Sieck, sisters of the bride, and Deborah Wagner, the groom's sister, were bridesmaids.

Stefane and Matthew Sieck, a niece and nephew of the bride, served as the flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

Kevin Isley was the best man and Paul Crosby, George Rodino and Greg Wagner, a brother-in-law of the groom, were groomsmen.

A graduate of Illinois State University, the bride is now employed as a teacher at St. Mary's School in Woodstock. The groom graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is working as a programmer analyst at Brake Parts Co. in McHenry, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Jones

Jones-Mathes

An out of town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Bridget Renee Mathes and Rodney Glenn Jones on Aug. 14 at the Assembly of God Church in Nashville, Ill.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Bob Mathes Sr. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Jones, all of Nashville.

Rev. Mathes, the former minister of music at the First Assembly of God Church in Granite City, performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her parents. Miss Ivetta Mathes, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Rhonda Rea, Janetta Schellingberger, the bride's cousin, and Cathy Jones, the groom's sister-in-law.

Shawna Brink and Kevin Howe served as flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

Tom Emge was best man. Bob Mathes, a brother of the bride, Jeff Schleifer, and Russell Jones, a brother of the groom, served as groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Dale Howe and Dan Edwards who also were the candlelighters.

Organist Lisa Totewe, Dennis O'Connor and Matt Giovanetti, guitarists and Debbie Duncan, accompanied Pam Dodillet and Matt Burchan, soloists. Selections included "Through the Years," "Time in a Bottle," "Sunrise, Sunset," "He Has Chosen You for Me," "The Wedding Prayer," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Looking Through the Eyes of Love."

Immediately following the service a reception was held in the church hall. Assisting were Imogene Rea, Becky O'Connor and Mickey Edwards, Pam Dodillet, Sandy Howe, Mary Jo Sanders, Marianne Henson and Denise Schellingberger.

Mrs. Sharon Hernandez attended the guest book and Kelly Sistieler and Debbie Henson received the gifts.

After a honeymoon in the Smokey Mountains the couple returned to Dallas, Texas, to make their home where the groom is a pharmacist with Eckerd Drug Co.

Timms-Perkins

Miss Mary Alice Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Perkins, 832 O'Fallon Road, Troy, Ill., formerly of Granite City, and Grady Mack Timms, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Timms, Mesquite, Texas, were united in marriage on Aug. 14 at St. Jerome Catholic Church in Troy.

The Rev. Donald Knuffm officiated at the 3 o'clock afternoon ceremony. Stephen Stack, a cousin of the bride, presided at the organ and accompanied Brad Stack, James Stack, a cousin and uncle of the bride, and Stephanie Stael, a cousin, as they sang a program of nuptial selections.

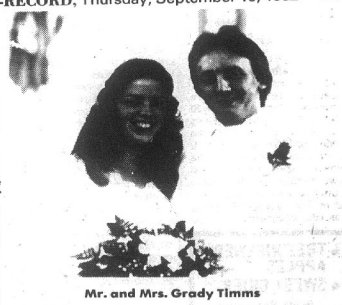

Mrs. Linda Perkins, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids included, Brenda Taylor, Tina Hafertepe and Melissa Radebaugh.

Jessica Perkins and Daniel Stack, a niece and nephew of the bride, served as the miniature bride and groom. The groom chose his brother, Barry Timms as best man. Mark, Jeff and John Perkins, brothers of the bride, Rick Schneider and Ed Payne completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Donald and Greg Perkins, also brothers of the bride, were candlelighters. Tricia and Julie Timms, the groom's sisters, presided over the guest book at a reception held at the VFW Hall in Caseyville, Ill. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Sue Perkins and Mrs. Cindy Perkins, the bride's sisters-in-law, Barbara Nemeth and Mrs. Beverly Hudson, a sister of the bride. Melissa Radebaugh decorated the tables and special food dishes.

The bride graduated from Triad High School in 1979 and while in school was a member of the Pep Club and choir. She is now employed as an assistant manager of Monopoly in Dallas, Texas. Employed at M. B. Kiser Air Conditioning and Heating Co., in Dallas, the groom was graduated from North Mesquite High School. He was a member of the Machine and Metal Trades Club and was on the Track and Cross Country team in high school.

The newlywed couple departed for a wedding trip to Denver, Colo., Las Vegas, Nev. and New Mexico and are now residing in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Timms

Johnson PTA views film

A film strip on tax subsidy with an explanation on tax credits for private schools was shown by Katie Wilson, legislative chairman of Johnson School PTA, at a meeting of the unit Monday night.

Parents and members attended the initial meeting in the school cafeteria with Evelyn Robinson, president, in charge.

Reports were given by Sharon Mertz, recording secretary, and Mary Jo Utz on the candy sale now in progress. Final sales will be accepted on Monday, Sept. 20, she noted.

Mrs. Robinson announced the Granite City Area PTA Council pot luck dinner will be held at Johnson School on Thursday, Sept. 23, at 6:30 p.m.

Vice-president Willie Stover introduced Richard Brinkhoff, school principal, who spoke on the topic.

"We're Good and Getting Better." In his talk the principal said the schools are good and as a community all can be proud of the students. He also urged the parents to become involved in the school through their children attend.

Dorothy Bailey, physical education teacher, requested that the PTA consider, with the Board of Education approval, sponsoring a fitness trail on the property directly behind the school. More information will be available at a later meeting, she added.

After requests to have CPR taught again this year and a refresher course be given, Becky Seay said if enough interest is shown a date will be selected for this type of project.

There will be a program on Drug Abuse and Prevention by Jean Schrum at North High School on Thursday, Sept. 30, to convene at 7:30 p.m. the president announced.

The attendance banner went to Mrs. Janice Dittman's fifth grade and evening prizes were awarded to Sharon Grubbs, Barbara Searsdale and Mary Jo Utz.

Refreshments were served by Cathy Collins, Becky Seay, Sherry Potts and Peggy Willardet, room mothers, after the meeting.

Retired employees resume meetings

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees, Granite City Chapter 1067, resumed their monthly luncheon meetings, at noon Monday, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Tharah Erney, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer. Sixty-six were in attendance and recited the pledge to the flag in unison preceding the business segment. Guests attending were Nomi Randall, Barbara Begeman, and Mildred O'Neill. A new member enrolled was Evelyn Alford.

First child for Eugene Smallmans

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smallmans, 3725 Fair Oaks Drive, are the parents of their first child, a daughter, born Aug. 29 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The new arrival weighed 10 pounds, nine ounces and has been named Lora Lee. The mother is the former Pam Doty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Doty of Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smallmans of Crown Point, Ind., are the paternal grandparents.

The maternal great-grandparents are Mrs. Ora Lee Doty of Erin, Tenn., and John Heath Sr., of Winfield, Kan.

Harry McClintock gave the legislative report and Mayme Vallow the sunshine report.

President Larry Hengehold announced the National Convention will be held in Denver, Colo., during the period of Oct. 18 through 21. Granite City Chapter 1067 will be represented by proxy, he added.

President Hengehold extended birthday wishes to 12 members who had birthdays in July, August and September and acknowledged four anniversaries.

The special afternoon prize was won by Murrell Harmon.

Games were played presided over by Mrs. Dorothy Sheppard, program chairman.

The next regular meeting will be held at 11:30 a.m. at Charlie's Restaurant on Oct. 11, the president added.

Nameoki Presbyterian announces programs

"God's Good News" is the topic of a series of messages that will mark the opening of the fall program at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, according to the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor.

The morning worship service begins at 10:45 a.m. and the Adult Coffee Hour at 8:30 a.m. will study "The Christian Faith, Health and Healing" at its session under the leadership of Rev. Pierson.

The Rev. James Brown, pastor of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, will be the guest speaker at a monthly special meeting of the Windjammer Mariners on Saturday, Sept. 18, the host minister added.

Other events include a Jack's Fork float trip on Friday, Sept. 24, for the Spirit Sails Mariners with Ray and Claudine Snelson serving as skippers for the group.

The Westminster Youth Fellowship, which includes all junior and senior high students, will attend a Presbytery sponsored Youth Rally on Sunday, Sept. 19, at the Central Presbyterian Church of Clayton, Mo. They will leave the church at 1:45 p.m. for the rally, it was noted.

Both young people and adults are scheduled to attend the School for Christian Faith on three Sunday evenings in October at the LaDuke Chapel Presbyterian Church.

Also planned is the Education of Christian Education to take place on Sunday, Sept. 26, to feature a Recognition and Dedication service for the church school teachers during the morning worship hour. World Wide Communion on Oct. 3 will be marked by an offering for peace making.

"To provide a larger and more efficient facility for the growing programs of the church, the congregation will vote on a Christian Education and Fellowship Hall proposed addition on Sunday, Sept. 19, following the morning worship hour," Rev. Pierson reported.

Rev. Pierson extends an invitation to area residents to visit and attend church services and programs, at the church located at 1700 Fontoon Road.

Mark Bradshaws name girl Holly

Mr. and Mrs. Mark (Carol) Bradshaw, 4412 N. Rock, have selected the name of Holly Marie for their first child.

The new arrival weighed six pounds, eight ounces and was born at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

SIUE planning nurse degrees in Olney area

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has given notice that it proposes to offer its accredited bachelors of science in nursing (BSN) completion programs in the Olney area.

The proposal to offer the off-campus program was announced at last week's Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) meeting on the University of Illinois campus in Urbana.

SIUE will host a meeting Wednesday, Sept. 20, to discuss its intent to offer the BSN completion program in the Olney area. The meeting is scheduled at 2 p.m. in Room 3102 of the Rendleman Building.

Institutions interested in sending representatives to the meeting have been asked to inform Howard Webb, SIUE system academic officer, whose office is in the office of the SIUE chancellor at Carbondale.

University officers said these to be served by the program are registered nurses from the eastern portion of the state who have graduated from diploma or associate degree nursing programs.

The university anticipates enrolling 20 students in the fall of 1983, with expansion to 60 students during the third year the program is offered. The BSN program is being proposed in response to the IBHE's statewide plan for nursing and is comparable to the BSN completion program that SIUE initiated in the Carbondale area in 1980.

In other action relating to SIUE, the Board of Higher Education approved the membership of the board advisory committees. Gilbert Rutman, chairman of the department of economics in the SIUE School of Business, is chairman of the IBHE Faculty Advisory Committee for 1982-83.

St. Louisans plead innocent

In a court appearance here at 2:30 p.m. Monday, Lynch A. Johnson, 37, St. Louis, pleaded innocent to three counts of retail theft, failure to have a Firearms Owner's Identification Card and receiving a credit card of another person. A second St. Louis man, Charles K. Laird, 38, pleaded innocent to three charges of retail theft.

Johnson's bond was set at $1,000, a mittimus was issued and he was transferred to Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. Laird also was transferred to the county jail Tuesday after his bond was set at $752 and a mittimus was issued.

Both men were arrested Sept. 11, following an alleged shoplifting incident at Gik's Department Store in Belmore Village Shopping Center when the vehicle they were occupying was described to Granite City police and halted by a Madison County deputy sheriff on Route 203, near Maryville Road.

A security alarm system and three electric carving knives, allegedly stolen from Walgreen Drugs and Radio Shack, both in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, were among other items in the vehicle.

Two credit cards, both reported stolen, allegedly were found in the auto's glove compartment and a box of 30 hollow point, 32-caliber shells also was in the car.

NEW PASTOR.

The Rev. Allen Reiter has accepted the pastorate of St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road. He will assume duties there on Sept. 15. Rev. Reiter last served the United Church of Christ in Crestline, Ohio, and will be formally installed at the local church in ceremonies on Oct. 24.

GC congregation to attend meet

Walter Schaefer, spokesman for the Granite City congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced a two-day circuit assembly is being planned for October to take place in the Jehovah's Witnesses assembly hall at Loreda and Laremore roads in North St. Louis.

The keynote speaker will be Robert L. Hartman, a native of Detroit, Mich., and a representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York since 1954. He will discuss the topic, "How Does the Truth Affect Your Life?" and will answer questions during a discussion session.

For further information concerning the assembly those interested are advised to contact any member of the local congregation or call 452-7361, Schaefer added.

HUSBAND IN GERMANY DRILL

Air Force Airman First Class Steven M. Brigran, son of William C. and Virginia J. Brigran of Crawfordville, Ind., is one of more than 100,000 U.S. soldiers and airmen participating in the U.S. Army REFORGER, or return of forces to Germany, and the U.S. Air Force Crested Cap exercises in Europe.

U.S. service members in Europe, as well as those from the United States, join their NATO partners in ground exercises centering on central West Germany east of the Rhine River.

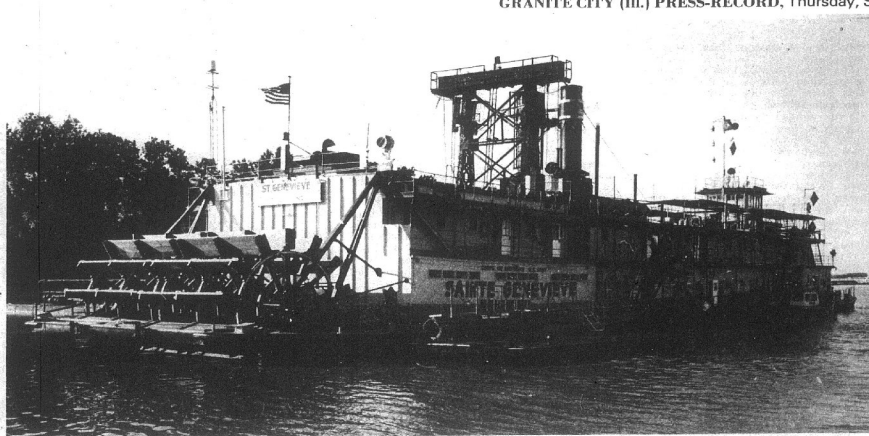

The joint exercises are designed to demonstrate U.S. capabilities to reinforce Europe with NATO-committed ground and air units in a crisis situation.

Brigran is an aircraft maintenance specialist with the 354th Aircraft Generation Squadron at Myrtle Beach Air Force Base, S.C.

His wife, Mitzi, is the daughter of Charles Webb, 3801 Lake Drive, Fonton Beach.

BURGLAR TAKES EGGS

A burglar entered Sacred Heart School, 2600 Jerden Ave., broke the lock on a refrigerator and stole three dozen eggs. He then smashed the eggs on an outside stairway, the Rev. James Shortall reported Monday.

DREDGING CANAL. The U. S. Corps of Engineers dredge Sainte Genevieve operates along the Chain of Rocks Canal, keeping it deep enough for navigation. The dredge began at the northern part of the canal earlier this month and is shown where the canal splits from the Mississippi River, which is too shallow for barge traffic. Mud is sucked from the canal bottom and is forced through a floating pipe to the shoreline, where it is sprayed, allowing the mud to separate from the water near the bank.

Seek freeze on gas costs

The Governor's Office of Consumer Services has asked to appear before the Illinois Commerce Commission to seek a freeze on passing along the costs of higher-priced natural gas to Illinois utility customers.

The ICC is seeking the exclusion of certain high-cost categories of gas from the Purchased Gas Adjustment clauses (PGA) of Illinois' gas distribution utilities.

Hearings scheduled by the ICC will consider the appropriateness of including purchases of higher priced Algerian LNG (liquefied natural gas), Canadian gas and Section 107 deregulated gas which could raise monthly bills to consumers 55 to 70 percent this fall and winter.

Alvin Grandys, GOCs director, said customers of Illinois' gas distribution utilities will be faced with a double jolt to their pocketbooks unless the PGA is revised downward to exclude these higher priced sources of supply from the pipeline suppliers.

"First, utility gas rates will initially rise 55 to 70 percent for various customers across the state. Hardest hit will be CILCO, CIPS and IP (Illinois Power) customers."

"Secondly, higher prices will invoke significant losses of sales, driving up transmission and distribution costs.

"These higher costs of doing business mean that the fixed costs must be spread over fewer units of sales. Therefore, rates will again rise even further in the coming years."

"In this situation, neither the consumer nor the gas distribution utility benefits. GOCs will seek a freeze on the PGA for certain categories of foreign gas supply, while urging pipeline suppliers to renegotiate lower prices for Section 107 deregulated domestic gas supplies," Grandys said.

YMCA offers 'Fun-N-Fitness'

The Tri-City Area YMCA is offering a new program for the school year called FUN-N-FITNESS. FUN-N-FITNESS is a combination fitness and child care program for children ages 5-11.

Every school day the YMCA bus will pick up registered children after school. Activities include games, use of gym facilities and swimming. The sessions end at 6 p.m.

Dave Femrite, executive director, said that the program was designed with the working mother in mind. "We feel this program can serve a specific need in the community. With FUN-N-FITNESS, those children with working parents can pursue healthful activities and have fun until their parents are off work," Femrite said.

The program is under the direction of Kelly Arnold. Miss Arnold is a senior majoring in recreation at

RELEASE TWO ON CONDUCT CHARGES

After pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct at 3:20 p.m. Monday, Andrew S. Batson, 18, of 8501 Center St., was fined $50 and was released under a 30-day supervision stipulation.

He was arrested at 11:30 p.m. Sept. 10, together with Robert Fuller Jr., 28, of 933 Reynolds St., Madison, following a disturbance call from the Game Room, 25th Street and Nameoki Road. Fuller, also charged with disorderly conduct, was released at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 11 on notice to appear for a hearing.

Both men were arrested when they allegedly refused to leave the area of the disturbance at the request of officers and became abusive.

Time to clean out medicine chest

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department
Public Health

While you are doing your fall cleaning, isn't it about time you cleaned your medicine chest of drugs that have lost their potency or have become toxic?

There are few over-the-counter or prescribed drugs that have an indefinite shelf life. Syrup of ipecac and alcohol are among the exceptions.

Aspirin seems to last a long time, but it begins to lose its potency in about two years. Antiseptics and ointments last two or three years.

The state health department advises you to date all medicines when you buy them—unless it is a prescription drug that is to be taken continuously until all of it is used.

Keep drugs in original containers with labels, and read the label each time you use the drug.

The state health department recommends that drug containers have safety lids, but that is not always practical. It's not only those with arthritic hands who have trouble opening these containers.

If you have medications in your home without safety lids, keep them out of the reach of children.

Old drugs should be discarded. Some drug bottles have an expiration date, so that you know when to get rid of them.

You can tell when others are losing their potency when they become crumbly, or change color or odor or consistency.

Aspirin smells vinegary when it loses its potency.

Liquids might dry out, and many drugs darken with age.

When you discard drugs, flush them down the toilet and rinse out the bottle. Never throw drugs in the trash can—it is too easy for children to get to them.

Don't stock up on over-the-counter drugs when they are on sale. Buy only the amount your family will use in a reasonable length of time.

This is true of prescription drugs, too. There is an added danger here—and that is self-diagnosis.

If you get similar symptoms at a later date, you may start taking that medication again, and it may not be the medication you should be taking at all.

If you, or a member of your family, is sick enough to warrant taking a prescription drug, a doctor should be prescribing it.

Now, you've got your medicine cabinet cleaned out. Where should you store the drugs you are going to keep?

Not in the medicine cabinet, because of the fluctuation in heat and steam in the bathroom. Drugs stored in such conditions lose their potency or become toxic faster than those stored in a cool, dry place.

The ideal place would be in a locked box in a cool closet in a bedroom or hall.

If there are no children in the home, drugs could be stored in a shoe box, but keep in mind that children are climbers from the toddler stage on. So, put the medicine on a high shelf—out of the reach of visiting children.

If you want more information on storing drugs safely, you may contact the Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Food, Drugs and Dairies, 333 W. Jefferson St., Springfield 62761.

Many students still get Social Security

By OLIVER HOLMES
Social Security
District Manager

As a new school year begins, many students 18 to 22 are still eligible for monthly Social Security checks.

Although legislation in 1981 will gradually phase out benefits for those in college, 620,000 students currently can count on these payments, compared with 759,000 a year ago.

About 80 percent of these student beneficiaries attend college or other post-secondary schools.

Their continued eligibility is based on the fact that they were receiving checks when the law changed in August 1981 and they were in college before May 1982.

Payments will continue until they finish school, reach age 22, or April 1985—whichever is first.

Most of the remaining 20 percent attend high school. Their checks will be paid for all months they attend school full time up to age 19.

Under certain circumstances, payments may continue a few additional months. The only newly eligible students over 18 are those in high school.

If you are a college student, your checks were stopped for the summer months even though you may have attended summer school. Payments will resume with the September check (due in early October) provided you plan to return to the classroom.

However, the amount you receive generally will be 25 percent less than it was last spring.

As a student beneficiary, you will receive a "Beginning of School Year Report" during the early weeks of the fall term.

This form asks about school attendance, work activity, etc.

Complete the top two-thirds of the form and ask your school registrar or other official to certify your attendance at the bottom and return it to Social Security.

If it is not returned promptly, your benefits may be stopped.

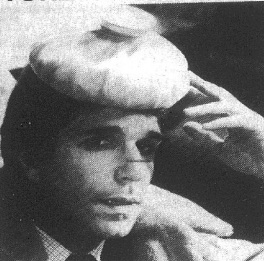

Did you have a summer job or will you have part-time earnings for 1982? If so, remember your benefits may be affected if you earn over $4,440 for the year.

In general, $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $2 you earn over $4,440.

Even earnings for months you are not entitled to benefits are counted toward the limit.

Aid doesn't always help the hungry

(This is the 14th in a series of 15 articles exploring "Food and People." In this article, Frances Moore Lappe, co-founder of the nonprofit Institute for Food and Development Policy, and her co-authors argue that American food aid is failing to reach the hungriest people in the world. Copyright (c) 1982 by the Regents of the University of California.)

By FRANCES MOORE LAPPE,
NICK ALLEN and DAVID KINLEY

In the last 25 years, the United States has distributed over $30 billion worth of food aid to poor countries.

Yet very little of this food has reached the hungriest people in the city slums and rural villages of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

Why doesn't our food aid reach—let alone really help—these hungry people?

Because, despite the genuine humanitarian intentions of most Americans, feeding the hungry has never been the primary purpose of U.S. food aid.

From its inception in 1954, the food aid program, dubbed "Food for Peace," was designed to dispose of U.S. farm surpluses, to create new markets for American farmers and food processors, and—above all—to support governments considered vital to U.S. national security.

While U.S. food aid has been distributed to over 130 countries, those considered strategic to American security have always been favored: Israel and Turkey during the 1950s, South Vietnam and Cambodia during the Vietnam War, and South Korea, Taiwan and Pakistan through most of food aid's history. As a recent General Accounting Office (GAO) study concluded, "Public Law 480 (food aid) allocation is based on foreign policy considerations and the importance of food as a determinant of political stability."

Even today, after numerous "reforms" in the program to assure that a larger portion of food aid was sent to the poorer nations, the majority of U.S. food aid goes to just a few countries. These are not necessarily the hungriest but the most important to our foreign policy.

Thus, the Egyptian government, which has already been threatened with riots because of the high cost of food, alone receives 20 percent of total U.S. food aid.

TITLE I: FOOD FOR SALE.

This food aid, however, seldom reaches the people who need it most.

Under Title I of the Food for Peace program, more than half our food aid is sold—not given away—under long-term, low-interest loans to governments, which are then free to dispose of the food any way they choose.

Most governments choose to sell it on the open market. But the hungry are precisely the ones who do not have the money to buy on this market.

In Bangladesh, third largest recipient of U.S. food aid, the food is sold through a ration system to the people whose support the government needs most—civil servants, the police, the military, the urban middle class.

"A permanent role for the relatively wealthy" is how the Wall Street Journal recently described it.

Furthermore, because the food is often sold in recipient nations for less than local farmers could produce it for, food aid helps to drive them out of business.

"Lentil production could be stimulated by higher producer prices," the GAO has reported. "Yet, Egyptian farmers receive less than one-third the price paid for imported lentils."

In addition, the availability of food aid means that governments have little incentive to improve farm production or enact genuine land reform.

TITLE II: DIRECT ASSISTANCE.

The other major component of food aid, Title II, goes largely to private voluntary organizations such as CARE and Catholic Relief Services.

They use it for Food for Work, direct feeding, and "community development."

Food for Work, intended to get food directly to hungry people in exchange for their labor on roads, canals and other construction projects, sounds great in Washington. But it hasn't worked so well in the field.

Why? First, improvements to the land such as canals and soil conservation projects benefit primarily land owners. They do little for the landless or those whose meager plots cannot support them—more than half the population in countries such as Bangladesh.

With their financial gains from Food for Work projects, landowners can often buy up even more land from debt-ridden small farmers, pushing them into an even worse position.

Second, landowners and government officials often "divert" much of the food for their own uses.

In Bangladesh, for example, 30 percent of the Food for Work wheat never reaches the laborers, according to Hjalmar Brundin, a consultant to the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID).

Third, peasants working on Food for Work projects often do not have enough additional time to work on the small plot of land that some of them are able to own or rent.

As a confidential AID report explains, the Food for Work program strengthens "an exploitative semi-feudal system" in the villages and "speeds up the polarization process in the rural areas."

Thus, in Bangladesh, as in Egypt, El Salvador, Haiti, and other countries, our food aid strengthens the elitist governments and unjust, underproductive land ownership systems in three ways.

Cheap food helps "buy off" the urban middle classes and security forces.

Cash from the food sales provides general budgetary support which governments can use as they please.

And Food for Work projects increase the power of the large rural landlords over the landless and near-landless in the countryside.

Most Third World countries already produce enough food to feed their people, if it were fairly distributed. The problem is that the majority of the population has neither enough land to grow food on, nor jobs providing enough income to buy food.

The warehouses "may be full of rice," as an AID official in Bangladesh recently pointed out, "but that doesn't mean that most people can afford to buy enough to meet their needs."

Our food aid can be helpful rather than harmful in emergencies when adequate food is not available within a country.

It can also be helpful when offered to governments, such as Nicaragua, engaged in genuine redistribution of control over food-producing resources.

But because this reduction often threatens the power of the backed interests in the Third World, these are among the governments least likely to receive food aid under the Reagan administration.

In the long run, the only real solution to world hunger may be the sharing of control over food-producing resources—such as land, water and credit.

Next: Dudley Kirk, professor of demography in Stanford University's Food Research Institute, makes some predictions about the outcome of the race between population growth and food production.

Today's author, Frances Moore Lappe is co-founder of the Institute for Food and Development Policy in San Francisco, a non-profit research and education organization concerned with the causes of hunger.

She has lectured widely to college and professional groups and has appeared on radio and television in many major cities.

Her books include "Diet for a Small Planet," "Food First: Beyond the Myth of Scarcity" (co-authored with Joseph Collins); "What Can We Do?" (with Bill Valente); and "Mozambique and Tanzania" (with Adele Becar-Varela).

David Kinley, an economist, was research coordinator for the Aid Project of the Institute for Food and Development Policy.

He is the author of "Food and Development: Policy Heavens and Impact of U.S.-financed aid institutions on underdeveloped countries."

His research has contributed to several publications of the Institute as well as to publications of the North American Congress on Latin America and the corporate Data Exchange, Inc., for whom he was previously a researcher.

Nick Allen is a researcher and writer with the Institute for Food and Development Policy. He was previously an editor of the Portland, Ore., Scripps and a staff reporter for Associated Press. His articles and photographs have appeared in The New York Times, the Washington Post, Business Week and several European magazines, among others.

He is the author of "El Salvador: The Hungry People in Latin America."

GC schools' self insurance praised

Strong praise for the Granite City school district's self-insured group health plan has been voiced by James R. Gallivan, managing director, Illinois Risk and Insurance Services (IRIS).

The program was established by the school system on Jan. 1, 1979, and last year served 940 employees, of which 719 had family units. The figures include present employees, early retirees and other persons on a self-pay basis.

Hired by the district to make an evaluation, Gallivan said he found that the plan "is well-managed and has been properly administered."

"The wisdom of opting for a self-insured program in lieu of being fully insured has been demonstrated. It should be continued."

Gallivan made three recommendations. He proposed that the school district—

1. "Retain a strong internal control of the program and maintain all records."

"This assures accuracy of claim payments and flexibility if it is found desirable to transfer the allocation of claims to another service company."

2. "Negotiate with Great West Life Assurance Co. for a decrease in its charges."

"Today, many insurance companies and service companies compete to provide the kind of insurance and services now being provided."

"We note that Great West has increased its life insurance rates."

"While we recognize the increased cost of doing business—and acknowledge that the reduced turnover of school employees tends to increase the average age of the group for life insurance—the attractiveness of the overall account should warrant the most favorable pricing."

"Current rates being charged should be subjected to a review prior to the end of the contract year Dec. 31, aiming for a modification of the increases imposed this year."

3. "Not undertake the total workload associated with self-insurance."

"There would not appear to be sufficient savings nor greater efficiency in the district assuming responsibility for the total administration of claims under the health plan."

"There might be some economy found if both the workers' compensation and the health plan were self-administered. The contractual cost of the programs might provide for the hiring of a professional claims manager and staff, but there are disadvantages in doing this."

Gallivan summed up, "The program has successfully provided health benefits for a very reasonable cost."

"We are happy to report that all elements of the program—funding, service and administration—appear to have been properly performed."

"While the program has operated very well, we do not recommend assuming the adjudication of claims."

Gallivan reviewed contractual costs for processing of claims, evaluated the adequacy of re-insurance and its cost, examined procedures performed here by Dale C. Res and then Karen Szeklar, conducted a feasibility study on the district handling the total claim process in the future, and evaluated the reserve fund.

He did not provide legal opinions, conduct actuarial studies, audit enrollment records or examine claim files.

Before 1979, the district was fully insured under an experience-rated contract with Great West. The company held surplus commissions in a reserve fund to offset any rise in claim payments beyond what was predicted.

The fund stabilized the insurance premiums and moderated any increases in years of poor experience. In effect, the district provided the company with re-insurance.

This arrangement succeeded in maintaining a cost-plus program, but self-insurance has made it possible to eliminate commissions, premium taxes and overall operating expenses.

Before 1979, although interest was credited to the reserve account, the rate of return was modest and only the surplus was invested.

Gallivan said, "Under the present self-insurance, the district's deposits in the reserve fund can be equated to the former practice of making premium payments. And the reserve earns the current rate of interest until claim payments have cleared the account."

"The district does continue to bear an expense for internal administration, the contracted services of the company in administering claims, and the payment of a re-insurance premium."

"Your transition from a fully-insured to a self-insured program worked smoothly because the benefits of the plan remained the same, the same insurance company processed the claims, and administrators within the district office coordinated the operation of the program."

"Benefits under the plan have remained virtually unchanged except for the liberalization of maternity to be on the same basis as any other illness."

"It is important to retain comparable benefits under the program from year to year to stabilize the costs, because of other factors such as the high inflationary cost of medical care and the greater use of benefits which must be anticipated."

The plan pays 100 percent of the first $85,000 of hospital expenses, and all of the first $200 of outpatient diagnostic X-ray and laboratory tests.

Regarding all other medical expenses, and expenses in excess of $85,000 hospital costs and $200 outpatient diagnostic test costs, there is a $100 deductible each year and then payment of 80 percent.

The monthly premium for re-insurance in the first three years was 24 cents per employee, an annual premium of about $2,700 a year. The rate for 1982 was raised to 32 cents.

Actual claims payments totaled $759,135 in 1979, followed by $733,251 in 1980 and then $872,550 in 1981 (an average of $404 for 2,159 claims).

Grand total of costs in 1981 was $914,827, including the benefits paid, premiums for excess insurance, and fees for processing of the claims.

The attachment point for re-insurance is set at 125 percent of expected claims. There has not been a year in which there was any danger of the re-insurance being required to reimburse the school district.

"Great West's development of the attachment point in 1982 appears to be very conservative, with a 59 percent margin over 1980 paid claims. It is only the rate hike from 24 to 32 cents which is puzzling," Gallivan told the Board of Education.

He added, "It is prudent to have enough in reserve to cover the aggregate liability of expected claims and the risk margin. This has been accomplished. The balance on Dec. 31, 1981, was $294,104 and interest income totaled $46,225."

"High interest rates prevailing in 1981 developed sufficient income to cover the contract for claims administration and the re-insurance premiums."

"It is particularly important for the board to meet its public trust to be certain the program is properly funded. This responsibility must be held firm in these times of tight budgets and necessary cutbacks."

It is our opinion that the methods employed and the current funding practices are both reasonable and proper."

Gallivan continued, "Considering the substantial time and effort already placed on the district's administrative office in handling claims and maintaining records, it is logical to review the possibility of assuming the task of calculating the benefit payments."

"Your investment in staffing for the tasks now performed must be credited for the success of the program."

"Your screening of claims before and after they have been adjudicated is a valuable service to the district and its employees."

"Maintaining records, developing analytical studies and performing the day-to-day administrative responsibilities could not be performed as well by an outside firm under a contract."

"Your handling of this work also assures that the interests of the board and its responsibilities are met. And there is opportunity to exercise proper control of the program."

"Although you can do the services you now provide better than an outside firm, it does not necessarily follow that widening your work to judge claims would be as effective."

"The service company can afford a trained professional staff with sufficient back-up support to maintain continued service."

"It has access to information and resource data not easily obtained, such as the laws and rules governing payment of health benefits, schedules of reasonable and customary charges everywhere in the U.S., and working relationships with other insurance companies and medical providers."

"And it can screen suspected fraudulent claims through index bureaus."

"The broad range of contacts with other professionals in that field, and the experience in administering other programs is of benefit to the district."

"Another important consideration is the availability of re-insurance for a self-administered program."

"Re-insurance requires evidence of the capability of the claims administrator to perform in a professional manner, because re-insurance firms become vulnerable if claim control deteriorates and claim payments soar."

"Re-insurance requires evidence of the capability of the claims administrator to perform in a professional manner, because re-insurance firms become vulnerable if claim control deteriorates and claim payments soar."

YMCA volleyball leagues forming

The Tri-City Area YMCA is announcing the start of its coed volleyball league. The first league will start Oct. 9 and run through Dec. 11, 1982. Play will be on Saturdays from 6 to 10 p.m.

An organizational meeting will be held Saturday, Oct. 2, at 6 p.m. at the "Y."

Pat L. Swearingin, volleyball coordinator, has announced that the "Y" will sign up teams or individuals. A team may consist of 12 players, but a minimum of six players or a maximum of eight may be on the court at one time. Cost for the league will be $15 per player (this is equivalent to $1.50 per night). Annual YMCA members may join the league at no cost. Deadline for registration is Saturday, Oct. 2.

State of Illinois
County of Madison
NOTICE OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
 Public notice is hereby announced that selected projects incorporated as part of the Madison County Community Development Block Grant program will be submitted for certification to the Department of Housing and Urban Development on October 4, 1982 for a grant of funds under Title I.

City of Granite City — Demolition.
 Environmental review records of the above projects for which funds are sought has been prepared. These may be examined by the public and copies obtained at the Community Development Office, 130 Hillside, Edwardsville, Illinois. Madison County will undertake the projects described above with Block Grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. Madison County is certifying to HUD that Madison County and Nelson Hagnauer, by his official capacity as Chairman, County Board, consents to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental review, decision making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, Madison County may use the Block Grant funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: that the certification was not in fact executed by the chief executive officer of the applicants; or (b) that applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD at One North Dearborn, Chicago, IL 60602. Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after October 21, 1982 will be considered by HUD.

Notice of Finding Of No Significant Effect On The Environment
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Pursuant to Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, the County of Madison, Illinois, has completed an environmental review of the following projects and has found that, in satisfying the requirements of that review process, each is an action which will not significantly affect the quality of the human environment in which it is to be located.

City of Granite City — Demolition.
 A copy of the Environmental Review Record prepared for each project may be examined and duplicated at the Community Development Office, 130 Hillside Avenue, Edwardsville, Illinois, between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. No further environmental review of the above projects is proposed to be conducted and Madison County will request the Department of Housing and Urban Development to release funds for the project 15 days following the date of the initial publication of this notice. Prior to that time, comments may be submitted to Madison County at the Community Development Office, 130 Hillside Avenue, Edwardsville, Illinois.

The applicant under this program is Madison County. The Executive Officer is Nelson Hagnauer, County Board Chairman, Edwardsville, Illinois.

WHERE YOUR CITY OF GRANITE CITY LEVY DOLLAR GOES ON A DAILY BASIS

Taxpayers' portion of levy pie daily bargain, says comptroller

Granite City taxpayers buy daily fire protection for nine cents, police protection for 12 cents, and garbage pickup for four cents, based on a breakdown of their daily average levy payments on a single parcel of land.

The statistics were released by the Granite City finance committee and city comptroller following the approval of similar tax levy, affecting next year's tax bills.

This year, Granite City landowners paid a total tax bill, based on the levies jointly imposed by all local taxing districts, of $6.37 per $100 assessed (one-third) valuation of real estate in the city.

City officials are anxious to point out that $4.94 of that sum went to sources other than their coffers. The city's share is $1.43.

With their pencils and figures out that with 12,439 parcels of land in the city — and each parcel owner obligated to pay an average yearly tax bill of $200 — the charge for city services comes to about 55 cents a day.

Broken down by department, the city's civil defense, engineering, sewer lift stations, air pollution, and humane services cost a total of three cents a day. Other daily charges are street services, seven cents; general government expenses, five cents; street lighting, two cents; library operations, three cents; legal judgments, six-tenths of a cent; police-firemen pension, four cents, and debt service, 5.4 cents.

"Seems to be somewhat of a bargain," City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic said. "Who else, he asked, will pick up your garbage for four cents a day?"

The taxing districts sharing in the $4.94 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate are the Granite City Community Unit District 9, $3.38; Madison County, 59 cents; Metro-East Sanitary District, 29 cents; Granite City Park District, 21 cents; Granite City Township, 28 cents; and Belleville Area College District 522

Fewer traffic deaths here and throughout state

August traffic fatalities on Illinois highways decreased by 19 deaths or 11.5 percent compared to figures for August 1981. There were 146 deaths as a result of 126 accidents in August 1982.

The provisional total of 1,062 fatalities for eight months of 1982 is a decrease of 13.9 percent from the 1,233 deaths in the same period of 1981, and a drop of 18.7 percent from the 1,306 deaths for January-August 1980.

In August 1982, there were 15 pedestrians killed in 15 accidents; five bicyclists killed in five accidents; one person killed in a railroad crossing accident; and 23 persons killed in 22 accidents involving motorcycles.

In Madison County, five fatalities in August brought the year's tally to 35, compared to 40 in this county in the first eight months of 1981. St. Clair County, with four in August, has 33 for the year, down from 42.

Illinois fatalities for the 1982 Labor Day holiday period totaled 20 as a result of 20 accidents.

Each year, the Labor Day period begins at 6 p.m. on Friday and ends Monday at midnight.

Labor Day fatalities numbered 31 a year ago, 26 two years ago, 25 three years ago and 31 in 1978.

Smurfit group still expanding

The Jefferson Smurfit Group Limited, Dublin, Ireland, and Diamond International Corp., New York, on Monday concluded a transaction in which Smurfit in a joint venture with Don Hindman and Clark Holdings, Inc., Chicago, acquired the 12 Diamond plants constituting its packaging, container, paperboard and graphic arts divisions.

In 1981, the four Diamond divisions had aggregate sales of $190 million and income before taxes of $8.5 million. The Diamond facilities were acquired by Smurfit Diamond Packaging Corp. The Smurfit Group operations in the U.S. facilities will now include 70 plants which produce paperboard, collect recyclable materials, and manufacture folding cartons, corrugated shipping containers, paperboards, solid fiber partitions, reels film and foil flexible packaging, labels, gravure cylinders, business forms and election systems plus contract packaging.

Disturbance ends in arrests

Called to a disturbance this week outside the home of Judy Scott, 7 Roxbury Court, where a man allegedly had refused to leave the front yard, officers halted a vehicle occupied by Gregory E. Forsy, 26, of 3168 Carlson Ave., and Chris Lynn Evans, 17, of 2529 Revere's Route, near the latter's address.

Asked to wait until an officer could investigate the incident, Miss Evans allegedly became abusive to police and voiced threats against a woman and the officer.

Forsy was charged with criminal trespass to property and was released on paying a $102 cash bond. Miss Evans appeared in court on a disorderly conduct charge at 3:20 p.m. Monday. She was released on a $1,000 recognizance bond.

Linda East benefit concert

Singer Ron Furr, widely known for his portrayal of the late Elvis Presley in the "Touch of Elvira" segment of his show, will headline the "Linda East Benefit Concert" at 7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 19, in Hatheway Hall at Lewis and Clark Community College, 5800 Godfrey Road, Godfrey, Ill.

Miss East is being treated for cancer and proceeds from the show will help her meet medical expenses, the sponsors said.

A noted musician in her own right, Miss East has appeared with Furr as a backup singer for the past four years and has been the featured vocalist for several standards, such as "The Rose" and "Operator."

Furr gained national attention when he and his band performed last January at a Presidential Inaugural Ball in Washington, D.C. He has appeared in the 300 Room at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl for the Jerry Lewis Telethon and at area lounges, including Sonny and Char's, Irongate Lounge, Goodtime Dinner Theatre and the Panorama Bowling Lanes, as well as nightspots in St. Louis and at Lake of the Ozarks.

About 400 Granite Cityans are members of the Ron Furr Fan Club.

Admission to the benefit concert is $8 and tickets may be purchased prior to showtime Sunday at the door. Further details about donations or tickets may be obtained by contacting Tetri at 1-462-4757 or Valerie at 1-258-1921 or 1-466-0069.

MUSICIAN Linda East, who is ill with cancer. Area friends are planning a public benefit show at 7 p.m. Sunday at Lewis and Clark College in Godfrey.

As Parents Grow Older topic of local workshop

A workshop entitled, "As Parents Grow Older," under the auspices of the Quad-City Church Women United, will be in session on Saturday, Sept. 25, at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road. The all-day workshop is open to anyone in the Quad-City community who are caregivers to spouse, parent or friend, according to the announcement.

The program will be divided into three segments, featuring Ronald Botto, Ph.D., assistant professor in Community Dentistry and Human Behavior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as one of the guest speakers. He will speak on "Physical and Emotional Changes."

"Chronic Illnesses" will be discussed by Betty Strieker, MSN, instructor in Nursing at SIUE, and Deborah Thrush, M.A., will lead the afternoon discussion in "Intergenerational Communication."

A luncheon hour (brown bag) at the workshop will be a buzz session, offering workshop registrants the opportunity to discuss problems and responsibilities as caregivers to their parent, spouse or friend.

This particular workshop, designed by Mrs. Margaret L. Henderson of Granite

Betty Strieker

City, was developed to answer questions and clarify ideas about aging and to improve communications. Mrs. Nona Corzilius, president of Church Women United, extends an invitation to the public to attend. Registration costs to cover materials are $2.50. The workshop will begin at 9:30 a.m. and is to conclude at 2:30 p.m. For further information call 878-6414 or 451-6287 after 5 p.m. or write Church Women United, 2100 Lindell Blvd., Granite City, 62040. Those interested may pre-register by phone or mail, Mrs. Corzilius added.

New head of coal division

Peabody Coal Co. on Monday announced the election of Wayne T. Ewing to executive vice-president for operations at the corporate headquarters in St. Louis and the appointment of John C. "Jack" Bennett to replace him as president of the company's Illinois Division in Fairview Heights.

Ewing, president of Peabody's Illinois Division since it was formed in 1979, replaces D. C. "Doc" Hall, who has announced plans to retire.

In his new post, Ewing will be responsible for the company's five divisions, which operate 37 underground and surface mines and related facilities employing 13,000 people in nine midwestern and western states.

Bennett will have responsibility for 13 of these mines employing 5,000 in Illinois, western Kentucky, Missouri and Oklahoma and producing 17 million tons of coal annually. He has been vice president for operations of the division since 1979. Peabody, the nation's largest coal producer, markets 60 million tons of steam coal yearly, principally to utilities for use as a fuel in electrical power generation. The company's annual sales are in excess of $1 billion.

DRIVER INJURED

In a weekend accident at Eighth Street and Madison Avenue, Francis C. Baker, 1615 Tenth St., Madison, sustained an injury and was taken by Madison Fire Department ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Operator of the second vehicle involved was Charles E. Sanders, 2418 Logan Ave.
